As the increasing demands of the future crowd from memory the events of the past, may this sixteenth volume of The X-Ray bring to mind the pleasant happenings and friendly associations at the Medical College of Virginia for the year 1928-'29.

History

AR BACK in the dim past, to be exact, in September, 1925, we began to gather for the first time, coming in by two's and three's to register. This was merely a process of "going broke" in the shortest time possible.

We were then turned over to Dr. Osterud's anatomy department where we first learned the meaning of work and were taught many things by Dr. Brodnax which can be found in no text on anatomy. In this first attempt, several of our number failed to make the grade, while the rest of us either slept through or listened to the interesting lectures of Dr. Miller, and were taught by Dr. Osterud how some persons may eat their cake and have it too.

The second year we came back with great confidence in our ability, but this only lasted until Dr. C. C. Haskell began to quiz. At the same time, Dr. Shaw was teaching us how to grow potato bugs and also the way he did things when he was in the army. Dr. Phillips told us that the reason for most things is the pathological "X" or several other things just as definite.

At the beginning of the third year, we had lost more of our original number, but this was made up by transfers from other schools. This year was actually painful in some ways, but this was counter-balanced by some of the unusually good lectures given us. Most members of the class became very proficient in the use of the stethoscope, hearing rales and murmurs where none existed and failing to hear them when present. However, after our few examinations were over we found that we were seniors.

We always had the idea that when we became seniors all of our work would be over and that we only had to wait for our degrees, but we were mistaken for we had yet to learn how to be laboratory technicians, a few things about medicine, surgery, etc., but above all that the immediate subject under discussion is the most important in the whole medical curriculum.

But to give the history of the Class of 1929 in a few words, we have worked and played hard together for four years, enjoying every moment of the time.

George A. Andrews
"Andy"
MOUNT GILEAD, N. C.

Alpha Kappa Kappa; Assistant Business Manager "X-Ray," 1928-29; Interne Club.

Any Bible student can tell you the whereabouts of Mount Gilead. It happens though that "Andy" is from North Carolina's "Hill of Wetness"—and finishing his training at Duke University on another hill, he decided to come with us where there are seven hills. The thing impressing us is that his personality is of the kind that grows upon us. There is something always pleasing about him in spite of his poker face. And more, his manner and character commend those higher qualities demanded by the ethics of his chosen profession. We are hoping for a great future for you, "Andy."

William Augustus Anthony
"Gus"
GASTONIA, N. C.

Theta Kappa Psi; Cotillion Club; A.B. Erskine College; Interfraternity Council.

William Augustus Anthony, better known as "Gus," came to us from the Old North State. In the four years that he has been with us we have become as proud to claim him as a fellow student as his mother state should be to claim him as a son. From the time of juggling a box of bones to the time of "boning" over Dr. Joe White's Eye, "Gus" has never let up in his determination to master the science of medicine. "Gus," while quiet and unassuming, has a way of winning friends, be it of either sex. He has made for himself in our lives a friendship that will long be remembered.
Senior Class

Charles Lewis Baird
"C. L."
Manteo, VA.

Howard Hampton Ballard
"Baldy"
Peterstown, West Virginia

The 1929 X-Ray

Theta Kappa Psi; Square and Compass; Cotillion Club; William and Mary Club; R. C. T. C.: Assistant Business Manager of "X-Ray" 1927-28; Society Editor "Skull and Bones," 1927-28; Associate Editor "Skull and Bones" 1928-29; Business Manager of "X-Ray," 1928-29; Purity Squad.

Behold—a man who has in great amount that essential virtue which Osier honors with the title "Magic Word in Medicine"—Work. Add to that enchanted quality inherent ability, pleasing personality, and lingual dexterity and there results a compound which will produce success in the practice of medicine with honor in the business of living. The 1929 "X-Ray" is a concrete example of his untiring work as Business Manager. Baird is one of the select few who will serve in the U. S. Army. When he is Surgeon General we will know he will still remember his many friends in the Class of '29.

From the wilds of West Virginia "Baldy" drifted in amongst us in September, 1925. It is difficult to eulogize a man of unquestioned integrity, with high moral principles, and a reputation beyond reproach in so short a space as is allotted us here. For four long and laborious years "Baldy" has struggled with us, bearing our ups and downs with a true mountaineer spirit. All of us will remember him by his laugh and as things please him, saying, "That's a trick." Success to you, Ballard.
Senior Class

Jesse Thomas Barnes
"Tommy"
KENLY, N. C.

Phi Beta Pi; Chi Tau; Associate Editor "X-Ray," 1928-29; A. B. & M. A., Duke University; Square and Compass; North Carolina Club; R. O. T. C.

Everyone that has had the pleasure of knowing "Tommy" will agree that he is a gentleman of high character and at all times stands for the right. When he came to this institution in the fall of '25 we noticed that if there was a conversation going on about the ladies he kept quiet. The reason for this was noted when he came back in the fall of '26, bringing with him the 75 per cent of the matrimonial bargain. Evidently this was an inspiration, for he has an enviable record since being here. One would almost forget to wish him success, knowing that such a strong yet so congenial a personality, is sure to achieve it or there "ain't no justice."

Stuart Onyx Bennett
"Onyx"
GRETNA, VA.

Phi Beta Pi; Phi Beta Kappa; Chi Beta Phi; Secretary-Treasurer Junior Class, 1927-28.

Although one of the smallest members of the class in stature, the splendid record that he has made throughout his college career has convinced us that a little man can accomplish big things. This is evinced by his Phi Beta Kappa key, which honor he attained at Randolph Macon. During his time at M. C. V., he has further proven that he is a fine student, a brilliant thinker, and most of all a true friend.
Senior Class

CHAPMAN HUNTER BINFORD
"Chap"
PAMPLIN, VIRGINIA

Theta Kappa Psi; Square and Compass; Tau Kappa Alpha; R.A. Hampden-Sidney; "X-Ray" Representative, 1927-'28; Editor-in-Chief of "X-Ray," 1928-'29; Hampden-Sidney Club; R. O. T. C.

"Chap" halls from Pamplin, Va., and from the famous halls of Hampden-Sidney, where he spent happy years completing his academic work. With a happy smile and a friendly salutation, he greets his fellow students. His determination to do a given task well or not at all has won for him high favor and esteem by all that know him. He possesses all of the essential qualities that make a man, a friend, a citizen, and a scholar. Irrespective of the branch of service he may enter, we predict for him the highest of achievements and success in the vocation he loves best. "Chap," we are proud to know you as our friend and may our best wishes aid you in obtaining the goal of your most cherished ambition.

WARREN GLEAVES BISHOP
Galax, Va.

Phi Beta Pi; Cotillion Club.

"Bish" comes to us from the mountains of South-west Virginia via University of Virginia. During the three years that he has been with us he has made numerous friends among his fellow students and members of the faculty. It would be unfair to both him and to the members of the fairer sex to omit his diplomacy with those of said sex who have gained his acquaintance. They simply cannot resist "Bish." He is always ready to lend a helping hand or do a favor, be it great or small. There are so many things that we would like to say about this refined young gentleman, but lack of space forbids. We will, however, say that with his sunny disposition and winning personality he will make a splendid doctor. So here's to your future success and happiness, "Bish."
Wait a minute! Behold Rex, the man who, though with several years to his credit, still possesses the powers of blushing. He is a true friend and one to be counted on in the pinch; always ready to help those of us less fortunate than himself. With his ability to work and to take life as it comes, success will not be denied him. Men of future generations can truly quote: "His life was gentle and the elements so mixed in him, that nature might stand up and say to all the world, 'This was a Man.' "

Girls beware of a big, robust, red-faced, red-headed man! Page La Roque! Few could register more true friends than "Bondy," for with his amiable personality, strong character, love of fun and "flaming youth" (not speaking of his head now) it would be hard to keep from forming a lasting friendship. He has been a hard worker, which is proven by his high scholastic standing, but has managed to be on hand for most of the dances, and even find time for a date occasionally. It is to those outstanding qualities of perseverance, originality, and mental alertness that we attribute our visualization of you as one of the foremost medical men of our country in the years to come.
What would M. C. V. do without her sons from West Virginia? These fellows that come from where the moon shines when it is wanted and where such sages as that of the "Peg-Legged Mule" originated. And Jimmy-Brown—well, he is as good an example to take as we could find anywhere. In fact, he would perhaps give us too high an opinion of those folks from the wild and woolly West. But we Virginians also have quite a claim on Jim because he went to high school here, liking it so well that he also took his pre-med work here. It is easy to understand why Jim took up the long and arduous study of medicine; he wants the name of the Brown brothers, some day, to be as famous as that of the Smiths. Well, Jim, old man, think of your buddies each time you add a salt-shaker to that wonderful collection you started while with us, and with each one may your fame increase.
Margaret Buckner
“Little Doc”
CLEO, S. C.

Margaret Buckner has always been a humanitarian for when she was called upon to choose her walk in life she immediately began training for a nurse. Her success as a nurse speaks for itself because for three years she was superintendent of nurses at one of North Carolina’s largest hospitals. It was here that she decided to search for more knowledge and an M.D. degree. When “Little Doc” first appeared at M. C. V. we thought her almost meek and it was only when we knew her that we fully realized those qualities of sterling worth and firm, if not unobtrusive, adherence to her principles and ideas of right. She has an abundance of good sense, is square as a die, the very soul of honor, and diverted by one of her pleasant sallies we all agree in pronouncing “Little Doc” “a good pal.” We wish you luck.

Otway Kyle Burnette
LEESVILLE, VA.

Otway Kyle Burnette hails from Leesville, Virginia, coming to us in the fall of 1925 after traversing the curriculum at the University of Richmond. He received his degree and then began to fulfill his life’s hopes by studying medicine. He has always been ready to lend his aid when this was desired, and has always had a smile for everyone. Though being tardy once in awhile we could always rest assured that his name was opposite a high mark when the grades were posted. It has been rumored that Kyle is the answer to a maiden’s prayer. We know that you will continue your life’s journey relieving suffering humanity for the humane spirit of it. May good luck and future happiness be yours.
THE 1929 X-RAY

Senior Class

ALEXANDER N. CHAFFIN
"Alex"
WYTHEVILLE, VA.

Theta Delta Chi; Nu Sigma Nu; German Club.
The above picture of "Alex" needs no further comment, except to say that he possesses the "good looks" of the entire Senior Class. The mystery about him is that he is well known in the medical profession of Richmond yet one of the best students in his class. He holds many fond memories of the time spent in Charlottesville, and residing in the Hanover Apartments. His honor we admire, his personality we cherish, and his future as surgeon holds no doubt in our minds. We see him as the best in his chosen profession.

ARTHUR CECIL CHANDLER
"A. C."
FALLS MILLS, VIRGINIA

Theta Kappa Psi; Southwest Virginia Club; R. O. T. C.; Interne Club (Grace Hospital); University of Richmond Club; Cotillon Club.
A well rounded man in every respect—studious, athletic, musical, and friendly. After having attained high honors at Bluefield College and the University of Richmond, "A. C." came to M. C. V. in the fall of 1925. For the past four years he has printed notes for nearly all courses except those of the nurses. We owe him lots for simplifying and shortening the long and difficult subject for us. His greatest problem so far has been to diagnose between Westhampton and West End. His sincerity in his work, his personality, and his high standing among his fellow students and professors, point to a most successful future.
Senior Class

Allyn Blythe Choate
“Bob”
Huntersville, N. C.

Chi Zeta Chi; University of Richmond Club; Cotillion Club; North Carolina Club.

“Bob” came to us in the fall of 1921 from the old North State. He is every inch a gentleman and that is saying a lot in his favor, since he is six feet and four inches tall. He is a quiet sort of fellow on first acquaintance but aggressive in every task to which he turns. His work here has proven, at all times, that anything worth doing was worth doing well. His friendly smile and open ways will inspire the confidence of suffering humanity. We wish you success in every way, “Bob.” It is sure to be yours and you will hold your honors well.

Samuel Leonard Cooke
“Sam”
Danville, Va.

Theta Kappa Psi; University of Richmond Club; Student Assistant in Physiology for Nurses; Southwest Virginia Club; R. O. T. C.

The hills of Pittsylvania, except for his detour by way of the University of Richmond, produced “Sam.” Well may the oaks from those same hills clap their hands while the pines from the University Campus whisper their applause for their splendid product in “Sam,” sterling, sincere, and sensible. Those who may have been his associates have been most fortunate. “Uncle Sam” has selected him for one of the prized internships in an army hospital. In a few years we expect to address him as “Major Cooke.”
Senior Class

WILLIAM LATIMER COOK
"Bill"
RICHMOND, VA.
Phi Chi; R. O. T. C.; President California Club; Class Basketball 1925-26.

Words do not suffice to introduce "Mercurochrome 220 Cook" of M. C. V. and Harrisburg fame. Cook hails from California, the home of prunes and sunshine, but for the last four years he has made his residence in Richmond. "Fox Face" Cook's scholastic reputation is unquestionable, his sofa technique is fair, but his best work is done aboard river boats and at night. In the summer of 1927 at R. O. T. C. camp Cook showed us just how versatile he could be—picking debutantes up on Charles street in Harrisburg, representing some business interests at camp, and at the same time finding opportunity to "blow suds" with Fagen. Here's success to you "Billie"—suds and all.

ERNST LEE COPLEY
"Cp" KENBRIDGE, VA.
Sigma Phi Epsilon; Tau Kappa Alpha; Phi Beta Phi; President Student Body 1928-29; B.A., Randolph-Macon; M.A., H.D., Yale; Cotillion Club; Sigma Zeta; Square and Compass.

"Reverend" came to us four years ago, after deciding that he wished to administer to the physical ailments of mankind as well as the spiritual. His ability as a preacher and a speaker has been a big asset, for he has been able to convert the "profs" into giving him exceptional grades, and has even gone so far as to be called Brother Copley by some. "Reverend" soon became quite popular with his class mates, which by the time he became a senior had spread among all the students and terminated in his being elected president of the student body. Let me not fail to say that he is also popular with the fairer sex, which will be verified by the nurses to whom he teaches Psychology. M. C. V. is proud of you and regrets to lose you, but with you goes her best wishes for a happy and successful career in the practice of the highest of professions.

"Co" "Ben"
STEM, N. C.

Sigma Phi Epsilon; Phi Chi; Committee on Revision of By-Laws and Honor Code, 1926-'27; Interne Club.

"Co" came to us from the Old North State after having completed his pre-medical work at Duke University. "Co" is an ardent student and the feature which has won for him the admiration of the class is a combination of his ability, accomplishment, and modesty. A resume of his life is reflected in his genial friendliness and attractive personality which have assured him of many friends. We wish for "Co" the very greatest success and know that it is in store for him.

Algeron Couch Davis
"Al"
ROANOKE, VA.

Phi Beta Pi; Tennis Team, '28-'29; Manager Tennis Team, '29; Cotillion Club.

Algie strikes one as being a good all round fellow, always willing to listen to a joke, match for an ice cream cone, or go to a dance. And Oh Boy! how he does love the girls! He plays a good game of tennis, and is interested in other sports. Algie is a good student and is deeply interested in medicine, which is particularly noteworthy since he comes from a family of doctors, his father and three brothers, all being M. C. V. men. His younger brother is now studying medicine at M. C. V. Algie in everyday life is noted for his friendly smile, congenial nature, fair play, clean living, high moral code, strong will, common sense, sound reasoning, and ability to do things well. By his everyday living which is physically, mentally and morally of the highest order, Algie has laid the foundation for a great future. Success to you "Al!"—the best of friends!

Senior Class

Alonzo Ray Dawson
"Ray" REEDVILLE, VA.

Sigma Alpha Epsilon; Phi Beta Pi; Cotillion Club; R. O. T. C.; William and Mary Club; V. P. I. Club; Interne Club; Purity Squad.

Ray came to us from William and Mary in the fall of '25. A man of many words and a keen understanding of human psychology. He has made many friends at M. C. V., and in the city. Ray preferred the position of right guide at Carlisle, and at present is a strong advocate of preparedness. Our navy does not furnish adequate protection is his chief point of contention. We know that Ray's winning personality will carry him far and make for him many friends; his class-mates predict for him a most successful career.

Rufus Marion DeHart
"De"
FLOYD, VIRGINIA

Chi Zeta Chi; Square and Compass; Vice-President Sophomore Class, '26-'27; Cotillion Club, '27-'28-'29; President Cotillion Club, '28; President (Eminent Master) Chi Zeta Chi, '28; Interfraternity Council, '28-'29; Interne Club, '28-'29; V. P. I. Club.

This is to introduce the smallest fellow with the largest personality in the class. The traits of leadership developed at V. P. I. were well shown in his leadership of the Cotillion Club and the Chi Zeta Chi Fraternity. Everyone knows that "De" as a social and influential figure at this school has been surpassed by none. He proved his ability as a physician and surgeon at the City Home in a number of medical fields. M. C. V. will indeed be proud of her alumnus in the success in professional and community leadership that awaits her son.
Senior Class

Edward G. Duwein, Jr.
"Dee"
BELLEVILLE, I.L.
Chi Zeta Chi; B.A., Wake Forest College; First Lieutenant Reserve Officers’ Medical Corps.

This Mid-Westerner, "Dee," as he is known to his many friends, came to M. C. V. after completing his academic work at Washington University and two years of medicine at Wake Forest College. Our class is justly proud of this conscientious and deliberate young doctor who is ever possessed of that remarkable trait of gaining his patient’s confidence. He is a loyal friend with a cheerful personality and carries a smile wherever he goes. In this gentleman from Illinois you find a blend of the noble Western manhood with the old time Southern gentleman. We are glad to have known him and predict for him the greatest success possible in the medical world.

Addison McGuire Duval
"Davy"
RHODESVILLE, VA.
Pi Kappa Alpha; Phi Chi; German Club; Circulation Manager "Skull and Bones," ’26-’27; Assistant Business Manager "Skull and Bones," ’27-’28; Business Manager "Skull and Bones," ’28-’29; Class Basketball Team, Revelers College Quartette, ’26-’28; Director of College Quartette, ’28-’29; Interne Club; University of Richmond Club; Political Adviser, 1929.

That, “Davy,” as characterized by the announcer of W. R. Va., “the good looking man with black hair, blue suit and red tie,” was endowed at birth with that rare intellect and wisdom of alleviating humanity of its sufferings is evinced by the fact that his mother named him after the greatest Surgeon of the Old Dominion. He is proving true to that trust reposed in him as his scholastic ability in the science of healing, his social splendid on all occasions, his high sense of humor and integrity, and his philosophy of life—Credo quod habes et habes—diffused among his friends and associates have set him apart as a model student at M. C. V. A student, a friend, and a work r, we are proud of you, "Davy."
Senior Class

WILLIAM JOSEPH ELLIS
"Bill"
COVINGTON, VA.

Theta Kappa Psi; Sigma Zeta; V-P. Freshman Class; Treasurer Cotillion Club; William and Mary Club; Southwest Virginia Club; Purity Squad.

"Bill" comes to us from the heart of the Alleghenies, but really you could never tell it now. The ancient and honorable William and Mary gave him a part of her refinement and is proud now to claim him as one of her own. "Shorty," as he is often affectionately called, appeals to us who know him best for his steadfast loyalty and ardent support, whether it be to his school, his class, his fraternity or simply his convictions. Nothing is too much for him to do for friendship's sake, and he seems happy in the service of others. These traits, together with his natural ability, industrial and cordial good humor, make us predict great things for him in his chosen profession.

NATHAN PALMAR FITTS
"Major"
DURHAM, NORTH CAROLINA

Theta Kappa Psi; Cotillion Club; William and Mary Club; North Carolina Club; Purity Squad; Interne, Summers of 1927, 1928 at Roanoke Rapids Hospital, Roanoke Rapids, N. C.; Assistant in Pharmacology and Physiology, 1929.

Before coming to M. C. V. "Major" wandered considerably, having served in the U. S. Navy, and after a stop at William and Mary, decided to study medicine. But now we have claimed him for four years and it has indeed been a pleasure to have known and been associated with him this short time. Unassuming and in a quiet manner he has gone his way, with the determination to overcome any obstacle, ever-ready to help fellow students, and making friends of all those who have known him. In the class room or on the street, "Major" has a friendly greeting and a slap on the back for you. With a good record as a student and possessing power and faith to meet the demands of the profession, a brilliant future must await you.
Senior Class

Elijah S. Frazier
"Pygie"
GREENVILLE, KY.

Baseball; Basketball.

"Pygie," as he is better known by most of his class-mates, came to us in the fall of 1925 as a representative of the blue grass state. After having finished his pre-medical course at West Kentucky Teacher's College. We see him now no longer in the boy stage, but a fully developed man with his mind made up as to what he is going to be. To really know "Pygie" is to appreciate his earnestness and serious endeavors which must lead to success. As a pal, he is true, encouraging, and inspiring. In every respect he has shown himself to be a Christian gentleman and at the same time a true sport, a quality which we all admire. His friendly smiles and open ways will inspire the confidence of suffering humanity. Truly he exemplifies the highest ideals of man to fellowman. We all join in wishing you luck "Pygie."

Phi Rho Sigma; Sigma Phi Epsilon; Pi Alpha Nu; Kappa Beta Phi; Cheer Leader School of Medicine, 1925-26; Charter Member of Revelers, 1925-26; Member of Revelers, 27-28; President Revelers, 27-28; President Interfraternity Council, 1926-27; Member of Interfraternity Council, 27-28-29; Chairman Membership Committee Y. M. C. A., 27-28; Cotillion Club; University of Richmond Club; W. & L. E. Club; Class Historian, 1926-27; Assistant Editor "X-Ray," 1927-28; Student Member of Student Welfare Committee, 1927-28; Master Ceremonies, College Night, 1927-28; Member Internes Club 1927-28-29; Athletic Representative of Class of 1929.

Ray joined us well versed in the ways of the world, and with a firm foundation of knowledge, since this time his interests have been many and his honors high, and because of his ability every group or organization with which he has been affiliated has been benefited. Because we know he has personality as well as professional acumen, we believe that M. C. V. will gain a valuable alumnus in losing such an esteemed undergraduate.

THEODORE GRADY GASKINS
"Ted"
BRIDGETON, N. C.
Phi Chi; Iota Phi; Cotillion Club; North Carolina Club.
"Ted" came to us from the University of Maryland and soon adapted himself to the new environment. He distinguished himself by numerous tilts with "Dr. Charlie." His attractive personality, hot line, good humor, and keen interest in his work have made him very popular with the class and faculty. This true Southern Gentleman has been very active in the social activities of Richmond. We are told that many of the fairer sex have been much interested in this young man. He will long be remembered by his noted fistic record made while with us. We are sure that he will bring honor to his profession and to M. C. V.

WILLIAM ALBERT GRAHAM
"Bill"
FLEMINGSBURG, KY.
Phi Beta Pi; Intern Club.
"Bill" wandered into Richmond four years ago fresh from Centre College. He went to work right away and soon made a place for himself on the campus. In his social contacts, he has been the perfect gentleman, and in his classes a scholar. Wherever "Bill" may go we know that he will be popular and any community is indeed fortunate that counts him a citizen. His success, we know, is assured.

Pi Kappa Alpha; Phi Chi; William and Mary Club; Interne Club.

When memory keeps us company and moves us to smiles or tears, loyal friends of college loom through the mist of years. With this sincerity and a real sense of humor, Charlie has impressed everyone with whom he has come in contact. His personality is of the type which encourages sincere friendliness. A gentleman and a scholar, no more could be said of a monarch, for the best has been said of you. We hope that high esteem in which you are held by your classmates and your popularity will be an index to your success in our honorable profession.

A gentleman who is a mystery to his classmates, a wonder in getting results, never admits that he studies, already has a staggering list of degrees tied to his name, and already practiced every profession known to man except bootlegging and embalming, and came most nearly being an exponent of religion until his true nature was exposed while reacting from an anaesthesia. He seems to have found his natural field in psychiatry, and his classmates have every assurance that the advances to be made in this new field will be greatly accelerated by his efforts. Any group or profession will be indeed fortunate to have in its ranks such personal and mental forces as are his to command.

"Bob"

Deep Valley, Penn.

Theta Kappa Psi; Scabbard and Blade, Honorary Military Fraternity; B.S. W. Virginia University; O. K. C. Inf. Res.; W. Virginia University Club; Y. M. C. A.

"Bob" came to us in his junior year, having completed his first two years of medical work at West Virginia University. He is quiet and unassuming at all times. He is a good student, a fine fellow and one who deserves all that has been bestowed upon him. "Bob" has all the traits of an ideal physician, and all who have come in contact with him have been impressed by his personality, clear thinking and good judgment. We feel assured that "Bob" will reflect credit on his Alma Mater, and the Class of '29. Here's to "success," "Bob," and may the worst you get in life be good.

Linville Murrell Halloran

Hinton, West Virginia

Phi Beta Pi; Sigma Phi Epillon; Cotillion Club.

Halloran has been with us only two years, having had his first two years of medicine at his own state university, West Virginia. He seems to possess well-balanced qualities which bring success in medicine and in life. Good natured, friendly, and always has a ready smile. Quiet, reserved, yet not timid, he lets his actions speak for themselves. Deeply interested in his work, he is a good student. With these characteristics, along with high moral principles and marked ability, one would expect a happy and successful career for Halloran.

Concord College; Instructor at M. C. V. Nursing School; Bacteriology, 1926-27; Anatomy and Physiology, 1927-28-29; Professor of Physiology

During his stay with us Lester has done the impossible. He has satisfied the professors with his excellent work; he has introduced the nurses into the mysteries of anatomy and physiology; and last, but not least, he has been most successful in that difficult job of pleasing and entertaining one's wife. Who would expect any less from one who hails from the Valley of Virginia where beautiful apples and great men are produced? Having such an excellent record behind him we feel no hesitancy in predicting that he will have no difficulty in convincing the public that he has "It," that mysterious something, without which no man can be an eminent practitioner of medicine.

"Beau," the king of Sheltering Arms Hospital, has been engaged during the past year in refining the technique of some of Richmond's surgeons. In spite of his arduous daily tasks he, assisted by "Pat," finds time to hold an occasional clinic at Westhampton College. We have no doubt that his success in the latter case equals his achievements as an intern and student. Keep up the good work, "Beau."

Theta Kappa Psi; Vice-President Junior Class; R.O.T.C.; Honor Council Senior Class; Interne Sheltering Arms Hospital; Southwest Virginia Club; Cotillion Club; University of Richmond Club.

"Bill," admired by men as well as beloved by the ladies, is a friend never wavering. Praise in some measure will be allotted to every member of the class but none will merit it more than this tall, fair boy who has a smile and even a favor for everyone. Each kind act calls for another and perhaps this is why things come his way. His self-confidence gilded with modesty and his sense of duty to self and family will carry him far in the medical profession. We shall watch you with pride, "Bill."

Oscar Lee Hite
"Instrument Oscar"
Virginia, Va.

Pi Kappa Alpha; Phi Chi; Omicron Delta Kappa; B.A., University of Richmond; Assistant Business Manager "Skull and Bones," '26-'27; Interfraternity Council; President Senior Class.

Few men at the Medical College of Virginia will ever forget the fiery spicy speeches of this dark haired politician who has qualities that most politicians lack—those of unselfishness, as Oscar's speeches are always for the other fellow. However, his colleagues rewarded this attribute by entrusting him with the highest honor in their power, the presidency of the Senior Class of Medicine, and they have been more than satisfied with his regime. The college will miss this straight-forward honest, open-minded exponent of right and honor, but we predict the medical profession will be benefited by his presence and we predict a life of success in his chosen field.

PRINCETON, W. VA.

Chi Zeta Chi; Honor Council, 1928-'29; Cottillion Club; Interne Club; West Virginia Club.

We present to you, for your attention and admiration, "a man among men," "a gentleman and a scholar." This chap came from West Virginia, four summers ago, with a restless ambition to obtain his degree, which now he has won. During his four years at the Medical College, Leonard, with a steady smile and plenty of humor, has dug a niche into the heart of the whole student body. He has a pleasant compelling manner that immediately makes you feel he is your friend. With this impressed on our hearts it is with great sorrow that we witness his departure, and he is carrying with him our best wishes for a successful and happy career.

LEwis Winston Holladay
"Lewis"

DURHAM, N. C.

The Senior Class would not be complete without such a man as Lewis. He often speaks forth of what he knows and, indeed, it seems that in that somewhat philosophical person there is a fountain of knowledge which cannot be exhausted. Lewis' chief ability is his power to run a few, but he is an all round college man, interested in every phase of college life. We expect to hear of Lewis as a great clinician of tomorrow.
In the fall of 1925 there appeared among the collegians a simply dressed, modest and unassuming youth from the mountains of Southwest Virginia. "Hop's" determination to succeed has been as constant as the mountains from whence he came. With his diligent application and with his natural ability it does not require a seer to foretell or a crystal gazer to wave her magic wand over the crystal of mystery to see his future success in the Art of Healing. We trust that when the Class of '29 has passed to fields of greater service and difficulties to subdue, and when there comes a lull in your vocation, you will think of the friends that you made and live again with them in the memories of M. C. V.

"Joe" came to M. C. V. at the beginning of our sophomore year from the University of Virginia, bringing with him an enviable record of work well done and a pleasing personality. Since he has been with us he has continued to carry on the good work. Although somewhat short in stature, there is nothing short in the mental make-up of this promising young physician. We do not pretend to mean that "Joe" is a "bookworm," for it is rumored that he finds quite a bit of time to enjoy the company of the fairer sex. We feel assured that with his zeal for study, ability, friendliness, and many other qualifications, "Joe" is destined to be a star in his chosen profession and an asset to old M. C. V.

"Joe"
ROANOKE, VIRGINIA

Knights of Columbus.

Thomas, better known as "Hunni," hails from Tidewater, Virginia, coming to us four years ago from Richmond College. Small in stature, but full of energy, "Hunni" soon won his place in the class as a good student, a friend and a gentleman. His sunny nature and friendly disposition have won him lots of friends at M. C. V. Thomas enters into work and pleasure alike, in a whole-hearted manner, and we know that his success is assured.

The "Magic City" has become famous for its great physicians and surgeons. We venture to predict that among her future great sons in the medical field will be our friend and classmate, "Joe." His gentlemanly character, friendly disposition and lofty ideals have brought him the respect and admiration of the Class. With the fair sex he especially shines, being the cause of many cases of heart trouble during his stay in Richmond. He has proven himself to be a student of exceptional ability. With his striking personality, ambitions, disposition, and scholastic ability, he is destined to be a successful physician and in the years to come be a man of whom old M. C. V. will be justly proud.

Cecil F. Johnston
"Sam"

Chi Zeta Chi; Honor Council, 1927-'28; Secretary-Treasurer Senior Class, 1928-'29; Cotillion Club; West Virginia Club.

Johnston, who hailed to us from the mountains of West Virginia with the "wild" desire to show his skill by becoming one of the leading men in medicine. After long hours of hard work and burning the midnight oil, Cecil has reached the top round with his fellow classmates among whom he holds the highest respect and admiration for his clear thinking and "go get 'em" determination. But hold! do not think that books are the only thing that he likes to study, for with his dreamy eyes he can give the girls a treat. Some people think that he is bashful, but just ask a few of his "lady" friends and find out for yourself. "Sam," as he is known by some, will always be going forward, doing good to all with his winning personality, where others have failed. So, we all wish him the best o' luck in his future profession.

Thomas Estin Knight
"Tom"
WHALEYVILLE, VA.

Alpha Kappa Kappa; University of Virginia.

"Tom" is one of the well known members of the Senior Class. Few can equal his standard of character. He is the sort of chap that is always ready to help anyone. To have known "Tom" is an honor and to have associated with him is a pleasure. When the time comes to part and he takes the long trail, all of us will miss him. We wish for him ever success and happiness.

Frank Everett LaPrade
"Chief"
Republican Grove, Virginia

Theta Chi; Alpha Kappa Kappa; Honor Council, 1927-'28; Vice-President Senior Class; Cotillion Club; Interne Club.

The Class of '29 would indeed be incomplete without LaPrade. "Chief," as he is known to us, hails from the Piedmont section of Virginia. He entered M. C. V. in the fall of '25, having come to us from the University of Richmond, where he received his pre-medical training. "Chief" is a hard worker and an excellent student, as can readily be ascertained by his high scholastic standing. However, he always finds time for his social activities. With his winning personality, ready humor, pleasant conversation, and an abundant store of knowledge—we cannot but say that he will be a success in his chosen profession.

Here comes "Charlie," all tired out. "Say, fellows, let's get a sandwich." "Ah! come on, go with me, I'll just be a minute." "But don't you see it is just this way?" "Ah! quit your kidding." "Charlie," with your easy going, sincere fellowship, you have made our stay at M. C. V. much more pleasant. For in you we have found a friend that is not a friend for what he can get out of it, but for what he can give. We know you for your success is assured as your success at M. C. V. is a reality.
Eugene Marvin McDaniel
"Mac"
FAYETTEVILLE, N. C.

Alpha Kappa Kappa; Acacia; Cotillion Club.

"Mac" hails from "down home" and is proud of it. Being a graduate of the University of North Carolina Medical school, he has been with us only two years, but during those two years he has made so many friends that we consider him one of the most popular men in our class. This popularity is not limited to his college associates but to his town friends as well. When it comes to the ladies, let it suffice to say that "Mac" has "It." Not only is "Mac" a good fellow, but he is considered to be one of the leaders of our class in regards to his ability as a student. His grades are among the best, and his practical mind makes us stand back and let "Mac" do it. A gentlemanly character, a big heart, a cheerful word, a happy smile, a pleasing personality combined with a touch of profound sincerity and the ability to do things will win a success for "Mac" wherever he goes.

Dr. McPheeters came to M. C. V. after twenty years of absence from the profession due to ill health, to renew his medical skill and knowledge by receiving instructions along with our class. We have been very glad to have had the pleasure of being associated with him and feel that he has done our class an honor by coming to us. It has been an inspiration to us to see such a man as Dr. McPheeters determined in spite of years of ill health to do his part in the medical world.

Warren, R. I.

Phi Lambda Kappa; Beta Nu Epsilon; Tufts University.

Four years ago this Yankee left Tufts University to come South to study medicine. He exhibited good judgment in the selection of a medical school, and by his diligent study and constant application he has amassed a great deal of knowledge concerning the art of healing, and by so doing, promises to uphold the tradition of the school. Marks was never too busy to enter into the discussions which are always going on in the hall and on the doorsteps of our main building. No finer tribute can be paid him than to say that his opinions were always listened to with respect and were given due thought and consideration by his audience. Good luck, Marks; may good luck and success crown your worthy efforts in your chosen field of endeavor.

Joseph Mahon Moore
"Joe"
Petersburg, Virginia

Chi Zeta Chi; Sigma Zeta; Editor-in-Chief of "Skull and Bones;" Student Research Council; Intern at City Home; R. O. T. C.; V. P. I. Club; Cotillion Club; B.S. University of Richmond.

"Joe," as he is known to most of us, hails from Petersburg, Virginia, the most talked about suburb of Richmond. He was fortunate enough to get his pre-medical training at V. P. I. and the University of Richmond. He received his B.S. degree from the latter school after successfully finishing his first year of Medicine. "Joe" has made a wonderful success during his four years at M. C. V. studying the art of healing the sick. He is especially known throughout the school as a chemist, editor, and "bridge player." After being associated with "Joe" for four years I recommend him most highly to the public as a good man, both personally and professionally.
James Edwin Nance
"Ed"

Linwood, North Carolina

Theta Kappa Psi; Cotillion Club.

"Ed" came to us at the beginning of our Junior year from Wake Forest Medical College, bringing with him an enviable record, both as a scholar and as a well-rounded gentleman. True to his reputation he has left no stone unturned and has made good. He is a man of high ideals and unimpeachable character, one whose clean life is an example for all young men to follow. In this young man we find one who holds malice against no one, with charity for all, and firmness for the things which are uplifting and honorable to the medical profession. Since coming to M.O.V., "Ed" has shown marked ability as a scholar. Through his congenial disposition and charming personality he has endeared himself to all those who have had the honor of knowing him. He is a man of unique composure and goes about his duties so tactfully that he wins the admiration of all with whom he comes in contact. For "Ed" we predict great things in years to come.

Claude Alexander Nunnally
"Can"

Richmond, Va.

Chi Zeta Chi; Richmond College Club; R.O.T.C.; Interna Eastern State Hospital Summer '28.

Claude is another product of the University of Richmond, and from his work there we knew he would make good in medicine. He is a true and loyal friend, quiet and unassuming, but in every sense of the word, a real gentleman. He has a kind heart and a cool mind that too few of us possess while in contact with our patients. We know that with the sincere interest he shows in his profession his life's work will be successful. Claude, it has been a real pleasure to have had you with us during these four years of hardship for we feel that you have been one of our most loyal friends. We highly recommend you to suffering humanity.

"Shep" came to us from "Ca'line," (the University of North Carolina) and the University may well be proud of this man and student she gave the Medical College of Virginia. "Shep" not only "knocks cold" little things like anatomy and Charlie's courses, but does the same to the fairer sex. He must have "It." He has been a hard working student and has the results to prove that he has been successful. "Shep" will make good in the healing art, for he has potentialities unrestricted. May Aesculapius bless him and speed him onward in his chosen work.

Bernard Lee Parrish
"Doc"
RICHMOND, VA.

Omega Upsilon Phi; University of Richmond; R. O. T. C.

There entered into the historic confines of M. C. V. one bright morning in early September, 1925, a lad with a smiling countenance, and through four long years of work and play, that face, always smiling, always bright, has been with us. This quiet unassuming chap, though rarely ever advancing an opinion unless such is required, is a thinker of the first class and with the slowness and sureness that brings permanent greatness, he is moving forward. He works and plays with the same qualities, always going to the forefront in his undertakings. Bernard has shown himself to be a Christian gentleman and at the same time a true sport, a quality we all admire. Bernard, old man, you could not live long with us and stay in the dark. You may be quiet, but you are pure gold right through. Best o' luck!

Norman Guthrie Patterson
"Pat"
Sutsien, North Kiang Province, China

Honor Council, 1926-'27; President Y. M. C. A.; Tennis, 1926-'27-'28; Class Basketball, 1926-'26-'27-'28; President Sigma Zeta; Interne Club; Interne Sheltering Arms Hospital; Delegate Student's Volunteer Conference at Detroit 1927; Bachelor of Science, Davidson College, 1925.

A man's man for whom all women fall is our "Pat." "Pat" was born on the other side of the world, his parents being missionaries to China. He was brought to this country when a lad of high school age and attended high school at Lexington, Va. Just look at that square jaw and see determination sticking out. It means if "Pat" wants a thing he is going to get it. "Pat" was slated to be a missionary, but we feel that one less promising might meet the needs of a heathen Chinese. But regardless of where he goes we see but one thing in store for him—success.

Benjamin Franklin Pearce
Princeton, N. C.

Alpha Kappa Kappa; Cotillion Club; B.A. University of North Carolina.

Of all the men in the Senior Class I think Pearce is the noblest. So many things can be said in his favor that most men would stop before undertaking this task. Pearce is not slow as he would make some people believe, but deliberate, always sure of his task before going forward—the sure sign that his chosen profession is going to be blessed with one of the most sincere physicians of the age. To see him is to inquire more about him; and to know him is to be proud of one's association. As his class-mate and friend, the only criticism I offer is one that has never injured the follower of the Aesculapian art—he is too good for his own good; he will give more than he will ever receive.
Alfred William Pennington
"Bill"
NEWARK, N. J.
B.A. Wake Forest, '24.

Quiet dignity marking every social and professional move, and a discerning, judicious mind—that is "Penn" as we have known him at M. C. V. His is by no means a reserve raised to a point of aloofness. On the contrary, those who have worked with him have enjoyed his open friendliness and approachability; and these qualities together with the vigor with which he has devoted himself to professional study have earned him a place high in the esteem of his many friends.

George Dewey Pettit

Phi Beta Pi; "Skull and Bones" Representative, 1928-'29.

George boarded our train during the sophomore year as a transfer from the University of South Carolina. We soon learned to recognize the lad by his undiminitive size and wholly characteristic laugh. He has indeed been an addition to the class in more ways than one, and we prognosticate the best of success for George in the profession which he has chosen.

Even though he comes from the mountains of Tennessee, "Bill" is a strong believer in "evolution." In fact he has evolved into our outstanding man about town, and wherever there is a tea or dinner party among the debutantes, there will surely be found our "Beau." As a soldier at Carlisle, he was a little stiff at Saturday morning inspection, but that can be accounted for by his close association with the "jocks." Yes, "Bill" will be a good doctor! If he ever gets from under "Bev" Tucker's control, I am sure he'll make a fortune in gynecology. Watson, the speculum!

JAMES PERCY PREGNALL, JR.

RICHMOND, VA.

Omega Upsilon Phi; Vice-President German Club, 1927-'28; German Club; University of Richmond Club; R. O. T. C.

How we long to catch a glimpse of the future and see what the coming years hold for "Pucky." Whenever his name is spoken, it brings to our minds an ambitious, energetic, and conscientious student whose magnetic personality has won many friends. "Pucky" has not only made a high scholastic record, but has been outstanding socially. From the first day, "Pucky" began to make friends which have gradually increased until now it may be said that he is one of the most popular men in school. He is not only popular among the members of the student body, but has a multitude of admirers among the young ladies of Richmond. In bidding adieu we must say that we cherish your friendship and have enjoyed our association with you. May happiness and success accompany you on your trip through life.

"Little Dick"
NORFOLK, VA.

Kappa Alpha; Phi Rho Sigma; A. F. and A. M.; Secretary-Treasurer Sophomore Class; President Junior Class; Cotillion Club.

"Little Dick" is a product of the Old Dominion and a Southern gentleman in the "true" sense of the word. As a "dill-picker" he is second to none. With such a smooth tongue, easy going manner and "dill-picking" ability, "Dick's" success as an M.D. is assured. Everyone who has known "Little Dick" knows what a genial companion, a real friend, and a pleasant acquaintance he is. We predict a great future for "Dick," when he returns to the seashore town of Norfolk, Va.

JAMES STUART RICHARDSON
"Jimmie"
DEVON, W. VA.

Phi Beta Pi; Chi Beta Phi Scientific Fraternity; Hampden-Sidney Club; West Virginia Club.

It took a few years for "Jimmie" to migrate eastward, he had to pause awhile at Hampden-Sidney to get acclimated to the change in surroundings. We have often wondered whether it was the rifle fire and roar of cannons of Devon, W. Va., or the rarity of the air that he missed most. "Jimmie" is from the mountains of W. Va. where men are men and women are true; and a more sincere character has never entered the doors of M. C. V. "Jimmie" you hardly realize how your unassuming personality has impressed us with your ability to conquer disease, how your sincerity and ever willingness to help has become a part of our class picture.

Davis William Ritter
"Ritter"
Winchester, VA.

Phi Beta Pi; Y. M. C. A.; Athletic Council, '27-28; Cotillion Club; German Club; R. O. T.

Winchester is known the world over as being the home of the "Byrds" and the center of the apple industry. These facts make the "Valley City" a distinguished one but the aforementioned features are no more outstanding than it is the home of Davis W. Ritter. "Ritter," as he is called, received his preliminary education at Roanoke College. While at Roanoke he won the reputation of being an excellent student. Since coming to us he has proven this to be a fact that has distinguished himself as a real student of medicine. He has been justly called the most consistent student in his class. Above all he is a gentleman in whom honesty is an inherent quality. Though of a serious and studious nature he manages to find time to mix with his class-mates and surely there is no man who is more popular with the other men of the Class of '29. Ritter's future is already planned and that future is spoiled.

Charles Russell Robins, Jr.
"Charlie"
Richmond, VA.

Phi Rho Sigma; Chi Phi; B.S., University of Virginia.

"Charlie" decided to cast his fate with us only this year having received the major portion of his medical education at the University of Virginia. When asked why he had not been at M. C. V. all the time he simply replies, "I wish I could have been, but you know dad teaches Gym to the Juniors, so I thought it best to get that off before getting here." Anyway he is here and though his stay with us has been short, he has succeeded in making a host of friends, who on account of his outstanding ability and personality, predict a great future for him. Best of luck, "Charlie."
As long as we have known "Pepper," he has impressed us by his sincerity of purpose and devotion to medical science. Working alongside him we have admired his scholarship, and have enjoyed that saltpy philosophy and esprit du camaraderie which have made him a welcome party in every social and professional group. These characteristics associated with his cosmopolitan outlook almost tempt us to make a prophetic statement. "Pepper," we are going to watch the newspapers.

Wake Forest has been known to contribute several good men to our ranks each year. Among these came "Locke," one whom we are proud to call a friend. "Locke" brought with him an enviable record which he has sustained through his junior and senior year. He always has a smile and warm greeting for everyone he meets. To know "Locke" is to respect as well as love him. He stands for most of the virtues which go to make our profession honorable. Although a student of high calibre he is not a book worm, for he likes to get out occasionally among the fairer sex. From what we hear there will be quite a few broken hearts when this young doctor leaves Richmond. We know that "Locke" will be a success, for with his convincing manner and striking personality he will easily win the confidence and trust of his many patients.

"C. P."
Clarendon, Virginia

Rolston, a man among men, after finishing at W. and L. U. took up the gentle art of teaching. Three years of the latter were sufficient for him and he came to M. C. V., imbued with a desire for higher education which he has certainly attained, not only by attending classes, but also by stepping into the field of matrimony. He is really interested in medicine and consequently will certainly be a success.

"C. P." came to us at the beginning of our Junior year from George Washington University. Although quiet and unassuming on first acquaintance, he is extremely likable and considerate, with a sincere personal interest in friendships. Few can equal his standard of character and well-rounded good nature. All of us are happy in knowing "C. P.," and being closely associated with him for the past two years. We know that he will go far and always reflect credit upon his Alma Mater and profession.

Theta Kappa Psi; Square and Compass; Cotillion Club; R. O. T. C.; North Carolina Club.

"Bill," as he is so well known among the members of his class and also among the feminine sex of the city, has been with us the entire four years. He hailed straight from the rural district of N. C., where he says people thrive on work. Evidently this is true because work seems to agree with him. In the good old days of Anatomy, when Gray was our prayer book as well as our Bible, "Bill" was a constant late oil burner. However he kept the wolf from his door and his name has never appeared in that fiery red ink. As a friend and a gentleman he has more nearly reached the heights of perfection. To sum him up as we know him, he is a friend, a gentleman, and a scholar. Some community will be proud to welcome him. We wish you the best of luck wherever you may go.

HUBERT ADAMS SHAFFER

PARSONS, W. VA.

B.S.; Y. M. C. A.; West Virginia Club; R. O. T. C.

Hubert came to us in his junior year, having successfully completed the first two years of medcine at West Virginia University. He immediately entered into the life of the college. He possesses keen reasoning power and a determination to succeed when he attempts a task. He goes at his work slowly and steadily and in the end gets results. Truly he is a promising young doctor of high morals and noble ideals, and we predict a great future for him in the medical world.

It is but seldom that one is as enthused as Dave is about the work to which he has dedicated himself. He has the desire, the courage, and the will to make good. Judging from his grades and the keen interest he displays in his work, his four years spent with us in the pursuit of medical knowledge have been exceedingly profitable to him. He has proved himself to be a good student and a good fellow as well. His genial smiles, pleasing personality, and his consideration for the rights and privileges of his associates have made him a host of friends among the student body. He is sure to be missed when he leaves, but the good wishes of his class and other friends are sure to follow him and they are certain that he will become a most successful physician.

"Lord" came to us from William and Mary at mid-term of the Freshman year after a sojourn in the Mid-West. The three years he and his ever-present cigar have graced our presence have been years of plugging perseverance, a fit example for anyone. You admit that he is a glutton for punishment. Not finding the third year sufficiently filled with trials and difficulties, "Lord" forsook the ranks of single blessedness to run in double harness. "Lord" Sisson must have been the originator of the "ask me another" fad. Ask any question you will and an answer is always ready, right or wrong, an answer. And then prepare to answer a question yourself because it is sure to come. But all joking aside, Sisson has won our respect by his air of confidence, his willingness to work, and the personality that is all his own. We send him forth with all wishes for success and feel safe to predict that he will get his share of it.

This mountaineer is one of the outstanding men at the Medical College of Virginia. As a consistent student he cannot be surpassed. "Ike," as we all know him, is one of the most popular men of the college, as can be seen by the above honors. This man is very versatile, as a horseman he is a wonder—those who see him at Carlisle can vouch for this. Another one of his great assets is that of oratory. We have heard many of his fiery speeches in General Assembly, as well as at other sessions. "Ike" is a leader of men, and shall always be, so success is sure for him.

"Bill" is perhaps better known as "Rice Water Bill." He came to us from the wilds of West Virginia, and has succeeded fairly well in mastering the English language, but still has a foreign accent. He tried to fool us by moving to Florida but did not succeed. He is quite a sheik with the ladies and loves them all. "Bill" is one of our best and most sincere students at M. C. Among the mysteries of men is "Duke," residing for four years in a well known place on South Third street, where his parties will always be remembered. His generosity cannot be excelled, even among the debutantes. The friends he makes he holds. We see no reason why he should fear examinations or quizzes, for on one occasion he made 110; no one else in the present class attained such a record. He has traveled over the states as well as having made many trips abroad, and is now about to settle down as a successful doctor.

"Shorty" hails from the little town of Beaver Dam and is one of those easy going Virginian gentlemen. "Shorty" is always busy doing something, usually experimenting with some new branch of medicine, and so to "Shorty," this master mind, we wish the best and expect great things of you. "Shorty" was intern in Eastern State Hospital during the summer of 1928 and he was master among the "wild, wild women." "Shorty" has taken his studies seriously and supplemented them with good hospital work in the summer and if he continues with his gentlemanly manner and scientific inclination we have high hopes for his success in the future. Many and true have been the friendships he has formed and we will remember him long as a friend to us all and one upon whom we can always depend.

It seems a short time since the autumn morning we beheld the radiant face of "Rudy" striding down, with characteristic stride, to join the class in 1926. His winsome personality won a high place among us from the first. "Rudy" is also popular with the faculty. His "dill picking" however, is wasted energy, for his scholarship is of a high order, and the study of medicine is a pleasure to him. Rudolph is a born physician. That gentleness of manner, especially with the ladies, is the envy of his classmates. Rudolph is a man of broad culture. He delights in poetry, music and art, and has more delight in one who seems to have the inspiration for his splendid record at M. C. V. Best of all Rudolph Cabell Thomason is a real man, big in mind and in heart, with a capacity for warm friendship with all types; and, yet, he maintains for himself a strict code of personal conduct required of a true physician. "Rudy," we are proud of you, and we know those heights you are destined to reach will leave you our same unostentacious friend.

Shades of Aesculapius, what have we here? None other than a model of what the well-dressed young man of today is wearing. A tall blue-eyed boy, the set of the hat, the hang of the coat, the stride; by such is "Bill" known to us. Not over addicted to a strenuous study, by his ever pleasant personality and his uncanny luck, he has always been able to extricate himself from the difficulties that beset the path of a medical student. Throughout the years we have been associated with him we have always found him ready to join with us, be it to lend a helping hand or to add to the spice of the party. When the day of parting comes we find ourselves filled with both regrets and pleasures, regrets on having to leave him and pleasures on having known him. He leaves with all the respect, admiration, and good wishes that we can give.

In September 1927, Joe entered M. C. V. He is really from the Alligator state; but is known to everyone as "Alabama Joe" for he is a loyal supporter of athletics at the University of Alabama where he took his collegiate work and first two years of medicine. He is very popular with everyone at M. C. V., especially with the nurses, for most any time one can see him and his Ford coupe roll up in front of Cabaniss Hall. Joe is an excellent student, and we know he will be a wonderful success practicing his profession in the sunshiny state of Florida. Our only regret (we think it is his also) is that he didn't come to M. C. V. two years earlier.

the awe-inspiring mountains of Carolina and with his real ability he has made a wonderful success. His speech is frank and his de-consistent work and congenial nature. There is always time set aside in his life for social

he can be learned he is contemplating matrimony

"D. D.," as we know him, came to us from West Virginia University at the beginning of our Junior year. Although he is a true "West by God Virginian" we cannot hold that against him, for he has come to love dear old M. C. V. and has made many friends here. Everyone who has come in contact with him has been impressed with his good character, logical reasoning, noble conception of medicine, careful considerations, and well founded conclusions. Yes, we must admit he has made good grades too, but far better than all this is one who is considerate of his fellowmen, and one who is liked by all who know him. "D. D." is a "square shooter."

Class History

In the fall of 1925 thirty-six ambitious young men entered the Freshman Class in the School of Dentistry. The faculty was quick to realize that we were a splendid group of embryos and immediately gave a reception, at which we were the honored guests. It wasn't long, however, before the professors found out how much we knew and later in the year, due to our failure to grasp the significance of the temporomandibular articulation and our inability to count the atoms in atomic weight, a very tragical event occurred. This was the huge elimination contest, which reduced our class thirty-four per cent.

The following fall twenty-four men returned to further pursue the art of dentistry. We realized the long desired thrill of meeting and associating with "Dr. Charlie," who very frequently informed us that the fact that we were dental students did not infer intelligence. However, Mr. Rudd informed us that we were the best class he had ever taught. We do not know why he told us this, because we never could look him straight in the eyes and tell him what he was thinking about, nor could we finish reciting a sentence which he would start to read from the text book. Among the most difficult of things we had to learn our second year was how to light a Bunsen burner and how to find bottle five, on shelf seven, in section B of X division. The class was saddened this year by the death of our beloved anatomy teacher, Dr. John W. Broadnax. We were the last class taught by this great anatomist and artist.

The next year we began our work in the infirmary. No longer were we required to make gold mallets or to construct fixed-movable appliances for amoebae. Instead, it was our pleasure to gaze into the mouths of human beings through mirrors and enjoy the aroma of the past "decayed." At the beginning of the second semester Dr. Holliday tried to teach us how to manipulate plaster in the mouth without getting an impression of the tonsils. We learned that it was difficult to remove a plaster impression which involved the cilia of the esophagus, and at the same time depress the coughing center. This was the year in which we were permitted to put into practice what we had previously learned on models. "Our patience was tested by our patients."

As seniors completing the courses prescribed we are now about to close our college career and to resume life's sterner labors in the great and mighty world without. And as we step into the uncertain beyond may the lamp of courage light our pathway through any dark days when adversity may cast a shadow across our pathway, and may the teachings of our Alma Mater stay with us that our lives might reflect honor upon the institution and the dental profession.

Coming from the wilds of Tazewell, "Bob" entered M. C. V. under a handicap, but his determination and hard work soon lived down his past and he was soon accepted by the civilized world and became known as a dog-gone good boy and a real friend. Of all his many good qualities there is one which stands above the rest—his ambition and desire to add to his scholastic laurels and general education. To realize this ambition and desire, he has for the past two years without missing a single night, attended religiously one of Richmond's many night schools, where he has learned the "dots" and "dashes" of the future Moss "code." "Bob" has all the prerequisites for a successful career, besides the ability to make all friends and no enemies. We'll all remember his good disposition, "laugh," and Hi Sid.
Henry Edwards Adams
"Ed"
Richmond, Va.
Honor Council, Junior Class; Cotillion Club; University of Richmond Club.

There are two reasons for "Ed's" success during his stay with us—his determination to pass his work and the location of his name on the roll books. His success in making removable bridges ought to convince the most doubtful that he is a determined lad. Being first on the roll he always got good grades because he prepared the assignments given—the first paragraph. This technic worked fine in metallurgy but was a miserable failure in physiology. His willingness to lend a helping hand when needed, his frankness and pleasing personality, have made him popular with his class-mates and won him many friends in the college and with the fair sex. He is also one of the two self-appointed guardians of the nurses. He not surprised if in later years you find him high in command in the Naval Dental Corps. "Once a sailor, always a sailor."

Walter Howard Branch
"Sugar"
Raleigh, North Carolina
Xi Phi Phi, Vice-President Student Body; German Club; North Carolina Club.

When the Medical College opened in the fall of 1925, the Freshman Dental Class was honored by having in its midst none other than W. Howard Branch, a product of "Down Home." He was nicknamed "Sugar" during his second year here, but just how this happened still remains a mystery. While "Sugar" is an honest-to-goodness worker, he is not unmindful of the fact that social life is also one of the essentials of education. He has a host of friends among the ladies of this vicinity and particularly one who resides in a rural district elsewhere. We wonder sometimes how he finds time for golf, when his high scholastic standard is considered. His personality makes him an adept at making and retaining friends. His level-mindedness, fairness, and method of analyzing things have put him in the high regard of his fellow students. Howard, may the greatest of success be yours forever.
THE 1929 X-RAY

Senior Class

SIDNEY SEAY BRIDGFORTH
"Sid"
KENBRIDGE, VIRGINIA
Kappa Alpha; German Club; Square and Compass.

"Sid," after establishing a remarkable record at W. and M., decided to, using his own expression, tip into M. C. V. and devote himself to Dentistry. During his first two years he became well known to his fellow classmates by his witty remarks and queer expression—in fact, "he speaks a tongue all his own." In the lives of all great men certain incidents stand out. The one we will always remember is when "Sid" recommended that his first patient go to a dentist. "Sid" is a great believer in the ultra violet ray machine, for he believes that it is good for corns, alopecia, warts, dandruff, falling arches, setting up teeth, and correcting bites. A good student, conscientious, sincere, Sidney will be a credit in whatever locality he sets up in his chosen profession.

HARRY ANDREW DUNCAN, JR.
"Tiny"
OAK HILL, W. VA.
Tau Kappa Epsilon; Xi Psi Phi; Lambda Upsilon Lambda; Square and Compass; Athletic Council, '25-'26; Executive Committee, '25; Secretary of Athletic Association, '27-'28, '28-'29; Manager Baseball, '28-'29; Manager of Golf, '28-'29; Vice-President of Senior and Sophomore Classes; West Virginia Club; German Club; The Unholy Three.

"Little Tiny" Duncan, from West by-God Virginia. "That is the title of the next youngest and biggest one of our class. "Jumping Branch" in the West Virginia hills where "men are men and women are glad of it," save us this rare specimen. Seriously, many of us covet his easy way with dentistry; he never seems to study much, yet he carries off the highest honors. He is a hail fellow well met, and along with his hot line, he is one of our best students. Probably his only fault is his never failing habit of telling "what happened in West Virginia." "Tiny" never allowed his work to interfere with his social activities and has made many friends, especially among the fair sex. We wish you all the luck in the world, "Tiny," and feel safe in saying that you will be a big success in dentistry.
Senior Class

EDWARD HAMMETT GOLDBERG, JR.
"Goldie"
BENNETTSVILLE, S. C.
Pal Omega; Shufflers Club '27-'28-'29; The Unholy Three.

This five-foot specimen hails to us from Bennettsville, South Carolina, and now after struggling through four years at M. C. V., we now hail him as "Dr. Goldberg." "Shorty," as he is better known, has a winning personality and a pleasant manner which have won him many friends especially among the fair sex. "Shorty," with the handicap of being very small, is one of the outstanding men of our class, and one of these days we expect to hear from "Dr. Goldberg" in the high lights of dentistry. He is a man who will always render the best of service to humanity in his chosen profession. We wish him the success that he rightfully deserves.

ISHAM TROTTER HARDY
"Freezer"
BLACKSTONE, VIRGINIA
Kappa Alpha; A.B. William and Mary; Co-tillion Club; President Sophomore Class; Vice-President Freshman Class.

"Freezer," who is one of the most popular members of the Senior Class, spent three years of his pre-dental training at Randolph-Macon and one year at William and Mary, receiving from the latter college his A.B. Only few men can equal his high standard of character and well-rounded likable good nature, all of which makes us happy to say that we were associated with him for four years. As a student Isham is above par, and also is he a hard and diligent worker which assures us that M. C. V. has turned out a man who is to be a great asset to his profession. In his departure we have lost a true friend and gentleman. May success be ever his!
Senior Class

RICHARD BRIDGFORTH HUTCHESON
"Hutch"
CHASE CITY, VA.

Xi Psi Phi; Kappa Sigma; Secretary and Treasurer Junior Class '27-'28; Athletic Representative Senior Class, '28-'29; Assistant Business Manager of "X-Ray," '28-'29; German Club; Fifty-Fifty Club; Randolph-Macon College.

"Dickie," better known as "Hutch," came to our midst four years ago from the great wagon manufacturing town of Chase City. His ability to admire pretty dresses as well as pretty women has won him an outstanding place among his classmates. Quite often one may find "Dickie" reading some of the great works of Omar Khayyam or reciting a few lines from Shakespeare. It is rumored that "Dickie" will be the next golf champion. Whether it be golf or dentistry we wish you success in your undertakings.

JAMES ATWELL JONES
"Deacon"
TYE RIVER, VIRGINIA

Xi Psi Phi; Square and Compass; Cotillion Club; University of Richmond Club; William and Mary Club; Y. M. C. A. Representative, '26-'27; Associate Editor "X-Ray"; A. F. and A. M. Among the prospective "jaw breakers" entering the Freshman Class in 1925 there was one tall, handsome, quiet and unassuming gentleman. This man soon became known to his classmates as "Deacon" Jones. Named thus, possibly, because of his great love of the truth, or perhaps because of his kindly advice to those who consulted him. During his four years here with us he has been an inspiration to all of those who really knew him, because he never complains about conditions, even when times seemed the most difficult. Instead he has been the man who cheered us through in his optimistic and sincere manner. "Deacon" is the type of fellow that will give to the world his very best. We certainly feel proud to recommend "Deacon" Jones to the profession, to any community in which he locates and to any lucky girl who can appreciate his true value. Now, "Deacon," you are leaving many friends who wish you happiness, health and prosperity. And may your life be as clean in the future as we know it has been with us.
Senior Class

RUFUS SIDNEY JONES
"Skinny"

Psi Phi; A.B., M.A. Duke University; Cotillion Club; North Carolina Club.

Rufus, better known as "hebe gobies," because of his perpetual motion at all times, did not come to us until his second year, having spent his first year at Vanderbilt Dental School. He is quite an adept mimicry and this accomplishment has afforded us many a laugh. Although a hard worker he has had ample time for diversion, particularly among the fair sex. His many qualities and affable disposition have made him many friends in Richmond. Rufus far excels most of us in the deep discussions and arguments which come up in the class room from time to time. In him we find a true friend and a pal. We bid him farewell and feel assured he will succeed in his chosen profession. We sincerely and most reverently recommend him to the cause of suffering humanity.

RAYMOND ANDREW LOWRY
"Mickey"
RICHMOND, VA.

Psi Omega; "Skull and Bones," '25-'26, '28-'29; Class Historian, '25-'26; Class Secretary-Treasurer, '26-'27; Class Vice-President, '27-'28; Skull and Bones, '28-'29; Cotillion Club; University of Richmond Club.

"Mickey," the youngest member of our class, came to us from the University of Richmond. Even though he had little chance for a pre-dental course, he has proven beyond a doubt that it is not the school but the student. All that we are afraid of is that his sea-going weakness may lead him to the navy. But it is rumored that he has some attraction on Hanover avenue that will keep him out of deep water. We are all sure that "Mickey" will be as great a success in practice as in his class work.
Senior Class

Oscar Stewart Martin
"Skinny"
LYNCHBURG, VA.

Xi Psi Phi; Secretary-Treasurer Senior Class; "X-Ray" Staff '28-'29, University of Richmond Club; Membership Committee Y. M. C. A., '28-'29.

Five years ago Lynchburg was draped in black. Someone asked why. The answer was that Oscar Martin had migrated to Richmond in search of an education. Upon entering M. C. V. and assuming the duties of the anatomy hall he was awakened to the fact that his chosen profession meant hard work. This, however, did not bother him as he is a jolly, fat type of fellow who puts his whole self into everything he undertakes. The inmates of Cabaniss Hall will verify this. Since no one loves a fat man we nicknamed him "Skinny" just for spite. However, his love and knowledge of the dental art is in direct proportion to his avoeodoplos. While at the University of Richmond his "dill-picking" with "Lizzie" was in vain, however, he was since mastered the art and is graduating with highest honors. "Skinny" the Class wishes you the highest honors and success which you should rightly attain.

Eugene Brown Morgan
"Stud"
CONCORD, N. C.

Psi Omega; Honor Council, '28-'29; Cotillion Club; North Carolina Club; Fifty-Fifty Club, Davidson College.

"Stud" is a proud product of the Old North State. He came to M. C. V. four years ago possessing every ounce of ambition, determination and stickability. These qualities together with his keen personality have helped him to acquire innumerable friends. He has the ideals of a true Southern gentleman, and we are amply certain that his record in the future, as in the past, will reflect honor upon his Alma Mater and the profession. It has been said that he possesses "sex appeal." We do not know just what that means but we have observed his keen interest in the "fairer sex," and the predominating thing is the reciprocating attitude on the part of the ladis. "Stud's" social territory extends from Fulton to Westhampton and from Ginter Park to Forest Hill. There is no other man at M. C. V. any more admired and who will leave more friends than "Stud."
Hubert Vencill Moss
"Hugh"
Palatka, Fla.

Xi Psi Phi; Class Historian, '27-'28; Athletic Council, '26-'27; Y. M. C. A. Representative; Class Treasurer, '24-'25; Orchestra; West Virginia Club; Tennis Team.

"Hugh" is a product of the "wilds" of West Virginia but does not admit it. He wants to be a Florida "cracker." But all jokes aside, "Hughie" is a man of sober mind, a deep thinker and a thorough student with a class record that is a credit to M. C. V. We wonder at his resistance against feminine charms which is usually associated with one of declining years. It is our firm conviction that your success in your chosen profession will rival or surpass your success at old M. C. V.

Daniel Henry Patrick
"Pat"
Newport News, Va.

Psi Omega; German Club; University of Richmond Club; Rough Riders; Double Quartet Revelers.

In his lucid moments you will recognize him by his mad hyena style of laughter, or by his furious tirades against something at which he is righteously griped. The most frequent cause for being griped is of course that which looms largest on the collegiate horizon—dentistry. "Pat" is also an ardent and accomplished strategist—not in war—but in the other racket in which all is fair—a perfectly enthralling game of telephone calls, anxious conferences, "She said and I said," with the composing and rehearsing of impregnable alibis. Seriously speaking, M. C. V. has produced a man who will be a worthy adjunct to his chosen profession and one who will always bear the standards of dentistry to higher levels.
Senior Class

FRANK RHINEHART, JR.
"Frank"
BROOKLYN, N. Y.

Xi Psi Phi.
The Class of '28 boasts of a nonchalant youth who came to us from the Empire state. He is one of the original members of the class that entered "Old M. C. V." four long years ago. There are four things that "Frank" likes, namely, Brooklyn, "Al Smith Cigars," golf, and feminine pulchritude. His best friends often wonder which he likes best, however he admits that he likes a combination of all four. Seriously speaking Frank is a jolly good fellow, thorough gentleman, and a true friend. He believes in thinking things through for himself and working hard. Success surely lies in his path, and we all wish him luck and expect great things from him in the days to come.

ROBERT LUTHER SAFFELLE
"Bob"
ALEXANDRIA, VA.

Sigma Nu; Xi Psi Phi; President Freshman Class; Honor Council Sophomore Class; President Junior Class; Honor Council Senior Class; President Athletic Association, 1925-29; Vice-President Y. M. C. A.; Baseball Team; Executive Committee; Secretary-Treasurer German Club; German Club; William and Mary Club.

In September, 1925, when M. C. V. opened her doors to the incoming students, there appeared a quiet, unassuming and dignified youth—none other than "Bob," a product of Alexandria and William and Mary. Through his active four years on the campus he has won our utmost respect and confidence as a baseball player, being capable of handling any position on the diamond, but excelling on the mound. We have found him to be a very dependable ambitious, hard working student, being especially interested in the study of Vincents. "Bob," old boy, you have won our heart as a student and a friend and we are confident that you will win still higher respect in your chosen profession.
Above, ladies and gentlemen, we have none other than "Simp" Simpkins himself, from the wilds of Hanover county, also the home of fresh vegetables. Someone said that continued good humor is the sign of intelligence, this sums up "Simp" in a nut shell. The good Lord made only one Simpkins, then satisfied with this accomplishment the pattern was then discarded. It is written in the sands of fate that whatever "Simp" will do, he will always be successful; with an alert mind, a keen sense of humor, and a beaming personality, he will predominate in all that he will undertake. We sincerely recommend him to the cause of suffering humanity, and we know that success awaits him wherever he locates in the practice of his chosen profession.

GEORGE FRANKLIN SIMPKINS
"Simp"
RICHMOND, VA.

 Psi Omega; Historian Sophomore Class; University of Richmond Club; William and Mary Club

Above, ladies and gentlemen, we have none other than "Puss" Raynor Smith himself, from Coleraine, North Carolina, the home of fresh vegetables. Someone said that continued good humor is the sign of intelligence, this sums up "Puss" in a nut shell. The good Lord made only one Raynor, then satisfied with this accomplishment the pattern was then discarded. It is written in the sands of fate that whatever "Puss" will do, he will always be successful; with an alert mind, a keen sense of humor, and a beaming personality, he will predominate in all that he will undertake. We sincerely recommend him to the cause of suffering humanity, and we know that success awaits him wherever he locates in the practice of his chosen profession.

MARCUS RAYNOR SMITH
"Puss"
COLERAINE, N. C.

 Psi Omega; Square and Compass; A. F. & A. M.; Historian Senior Class; Catillion Club; North Carolina Club; Fifty-Fifty Club; University of North Carolina; Wingate College.

During the four years with us "Puss" has been a faithful worker in the perfecting of himself for the vocation which he has chosen. "Puss" not only has the ability to make friends but possesses that rare personality which enables one to retain friends. Another true characteristic of "Smitty" is that he never makes his troubles known to anyone, not even his difficulties in love. His interest in the fairer sex is confined to one lucky girl, but there are many of the fair ladies of Richmond who have never discovered this. He has expressed his intention of returning to one of the small towns of the Old North State. We are sure that he will be a "big man in a small town."
Senior Class

MARION BAGLEY WALKER
"Bagley"
NORFOLK, VA.

Kappa Alpha; German Club; Honor Council '25-'26; Vice-President German Club '28-'29.

Bagley has spent the last six years of his life in school, two at Randolph-Macon and the latter four at M. C. V., and in both places he has been a conscientious student and a hard worker. It was with high regards that we watched "Bagley" work among us and our associations with him have been a great pleasure. We feel that a great man has been added to our alumni and that he will win much success for himself and his profession. We wish him every good thing that life may hold for him.

JOSEPH PROCTOR WHITE, JR.
"Joe"
HAMPTON, VA.

Psi Omega; Class Basketball Team, '25-'26, '26-'27; Athletic Council Representative, '27-'28; Swimming Squad, '28; V. M. C. A., '27-'28; Revelers' Orchestra, '27-'28, '28-'29; University of Richmond Club; Rough Riders.

In this specimen the Medical College of Virginia hereby bequeaths to the profession one with a technique sure and finished to the nth degree and a knowledge of the science that is widely comprehensive and built of a thorough mastery of all the fine points. A likable, unflustered, hardheaded chap, who doesn't swallow anything whole and will hold nobody's dill basket. Economy can be effected in the line of laughing gas equipment by omitting it. "Joe" can easily supply all that is necessary and reduce the customers to a suitable state of inanition and happy oblivion simply by typical comments on the weather, politics, or any subject. Just provided it is handled in what you call the "Great White Way."
Senior Class

BENNETT RINER WILLIS

"Willie"
ROANOKE, VA.

Xi Psi Phi; Sigma Rho, Roanoke College; Cotillion Club; Southwest Virginia Club.

Willie—a good fellow. This man, better known as “Willie,” knows how to get results without any seemingly worry. The Class of 1927 at one time boasted of “Willie” as one of their members. Fortune was with us though and “Willie” dropped out of school for two years when he had reached the half way mark. It has always been a puzzle to us just when our friend received instruction in trimming mustaches. Evidently he must be a frequent visitor to Low’s and conceived the idea of a “croak” between that worn by H. A. Chaplain and Dr. Fairbanks. As a reward for conscientious work, a good disposition, etc., we wish him the best measure of success.

PERCY NORRIS WILLSON

"Cop"

SALEM, VIRGINIA

Xi Psi Phi; Roanoke College Club; Southwest Virginia Club; Secretary-Treasurer Freshman Class.

Well fellows, here we have none other than "Cop" Willson himself. Four long years ago "Cop" came down among us from up in the "wilds" of Roanoke county. The first year or so we did not hear much from him, but Boo!! He came from the underbrush and now he is master, whether it be Aker’s one-piece casting or Dr. Coleman’s cleft palate. We can sincerely say that "Cop" is one of the most skilled technicians and the only ambidextrous clinician in our class. Seriously speaking, "Cop" is a fine fellow, always ready to give his fellow classmate a lift along the long road of hardships. "Cop" is a thorough student, always alert and ready to grasp something new and better in the field of his chosen profession. We expect great things from you, fellow, and we are all sure that we will not be disappointed, as we are sure that success and good fortune will always shadow you.

DEDICATION

to

ROSHIER W. MILLER, Ph.G., M.D.

Who, since his graduation from the University College of Medicine in 1897, has given most unselfishly of his time as a teacher in the Schools of Medicine and of Pharmacy, and during our three years here has been our beloved teacher in History of Pharmacy and Materia Medica, we,

THE CLASS OF 1929

Dedicate this Section of the X-Ray.
Emile A. di Zerega
"Mike"
President Senior Class in Pharmacy
ALDIE, VA.

Phi Delta Chi; President Senior Class, 1928-'29; Debating Club, '28-'29; American Pharmaceutical Association; Assistant Registered Pharmacist.

"Mike," who came to us from Loudon county with a very good reputation, has come up to all expectations. We find him to be a very quiet fellow who is always ready to help when he can. He has made us a very good president. As an all-round fellow ready to join in and have a big time, he is liked socially and has taken quite an active part in the social life of the school. Goodbye, "Mike," and best of wishes for success in business.
Senior Class

FRANK SPENCER ANDERSON, JR.
"Fess"
RICHMOND, VA.

Kappa Psi; Assistant Registered Pharmacist.

To any one who did not know Frank, he would seem quiet and serious, but it doesn't take long for one to find out differently. Being the youngest member of the class, he likes to play jokes and "get a kick out of school." Frank is also studious enough to pass his classes well, and he expects to study medicine after graduating in Pharmacy. He is an Assistant Registered Pharmacist, having passed the board at the end of his Junior year. Here's to Frank, for we know that he will do what he sets out to do. One of "the three Musketeers" from John Marshall high school.

BERNARD BEHRMAN
PORTSMOUTH, VA.

1926-'27 Asst. Sports Editor Skull and Bones; Director of Publicity of Athletic Association; 1928-'29 Sports Editor Skull and Bones.

Fellows, let's give the little boy a big hand! Page B. Behrman, SPORTS EDITOR, Staff Correspondent, Associated Press, and out of this world. "Squirt" needs no introduction. He's a younger after the reporter's—as well as the girls' heart. "Banjo Eyes," as he is sometimes called by his comrades, has been a loyal and royal sawbone. He has a polished skull—and that's one big reason why he's going to make a whale of a success in the pharmacy game. In the fall of '27, Jonah Larrick, the ardent Medico athletic booster, was heard to make this remark, "What are we going to do, now that 'Squirt' has left us for a year? I feel that my right arm has been lacerated for 'Squirt' is a valuable man." B. Behrman, Sports Editor, beyond the shadow of a doubt, put the Medical College of Virginia on the map in athletics. Before he came sports from a publicity standpoint were as dead as a doormat. Now! Whooppee! They're as live as an electric shock! He leaves us, but leaves a host of friends who know him to be a regular fellow, a good scout, a splendid student. Best o' luck, "Squirt."
Though three years have nearly passed behind us we still find "Jimmy" the same hard worker that he was when he entered our school in the fall of 1926. His good humor and ambition have secured for him a high rank in the admiration of both faculty and students. However, he has not neglected the social side of college life and has endeared himself to many Richmond "flappers" who will hate to see him go to fields unconquered. "Jimmy," we hope that your success in pharmacy will be as great as your friendship has been.

M. Warren Bridgers, better known to us as "Duck," hailed to M. C. V. in the fall of '26. "Duck," you have made a name for yourself, both to the faculty and classmates as being an earnest and intelligent worker and we feel that the services you will render in your chosen profession will be of great value to your community and associates. "Duck," not only will your pleasing personality be missed by old M. C. V. and the secluded spots by the fairer sex, but also by the boys at the "frat" house who have been in constant meditation for the last three years to find out your weakness and downfall. We have concluded that it must be due to having such late dates with certain individuals. "Duck," we wish you much luck.
Edward Lawson Carter
"Carter"
Danville, VA.

Emmette O. Chandler
"Pete"
Milton, N. C.

Lawson comes to us from the city of Danville and has made a very good representative for that industrial city. Sobriety and industry have been the chief characteristics of this embryonic pharmacist. His sterling qualities have been exhibited time and time again and have endeared him to both his fellow students and his professors. To see him is to inquire about him, to meet him is to want to learn more about him, and to know him is to be proud of his association. For in him lies not the superficial type of friendship which is so commonly encountered, but the kind that makes one feel thankful for having such a friend.

Who is more admired by his fellow students than "Pete"? Always that happy smile may be seen on his face and though gloom replace it, it is only for a moment. Maybe this explains his power over the weaker sex, but others of us believe he has "It." "Pete" as you leave old M. C. V., you carry from the Class of '29 the best wishes and sincere hopes for success.
Leonard Wood Daniel
"Charlie"
Lawrenceville, Va.

We were indeed fortunate in getting at C. V. "Charlie," one of Virginia's favored sons from Lawrenceville. He is modest, quiet, and reserved. Always does he meet his class-mates with a smile and a helping hand. He is well informed on all subjects and when called upon to do so can offer valuable advice or comments. He is a man of few words and much action and altogether dependable. He has used the midnight oil to advantage. As to the ladies we are not entirely in the dark, for occasionally he has very important letters to mail. Success is bound to lie in his path and we are all looking forward to the day when "Charlie" will be an outstanding figure in his profession.

Carey Newkirk Dodd
"Carney"
Wake Forest, N. C.

Three years ago, there came to our Alma Mater, another boy from "Down Home." We saw that Dodd had a pleasing personality and although he seemed quiet and a bit aloof at first, we found that it was his natural way and that he was ever willing to lend a helping hand wherever he was able. Dodd, the student, in his time with us, has exhibited a degree of "stickability" that most of us ought to imitate. As our parting word: we wish you, Dodd, the success deserving of your perseverance, and we congratulate the "Down Home" State on the return of her native son.
Senior Class

WELLMAN MINSON FRAYSER
"Partner"
RICHMOND, VA.

Vice-President Junior Class; Executive Committee; Honor Council, '28-'29; Assistant Registered Pharmacist.

In the fall of 1928 there entered the portals of the Medical College a very dignified looking young man whom we were all soon to know not only as the best student in the class but also as one whose friendship was an honor. Minson has made the School of Pharmacy a good man and we feel sure that when he enters into business for himself that he will do as well, if not better than he has done at school. Here's to Minson, one of the "Three Musketeers from John Marshall."

WILLIAM CHURCHILL GARTER
"Bill"
STONY CREEK, VA.

Phi Delta Chi.

What? You don't know "Bill?" Well you surely have missed a lot. He is a real student, a true friend and a regular "curler." "Bill" has the determination to accomplish whatever he sets out to do. His pleasing personality makes friends for him wherever he goes, especially with the fair sex. He is a strong believer in dancing as a form of recreation. Well, "Bill," we predict for you a bright future with a cozy little cottage in ———?
Al Jolyon Hermelin
"Abe"
BROOKLYN, NEW YORK

Al, a native of that thriving densely populous area known as New York, elected "Dixie" to confer upon him the coveted Ph.G. We are proud to have had such an amiable, cheerful, diligent student in our midst. Our Yankee friend's only drawback, besides the ladies, is a weakness for opening the windows on entering classes, regardless of the temperature. In this respect, some doubt his being a "Noo Yorker," believing him an Eskimo. Hence the alias "Igloo Al." In leaving the portals of the college, his classmates bestow upon him their most sincere wishes for prosperity in his chosen profession.

J. Leslie Hughes
"Red"
SOUTH NORFOLK, VA.

Phi Delta Chi; Honor Council of 1928-'29; American Pharmaceutical Association; Assistant Registered Pharmacist.

"Les" came to us from Norfolk to learn the "Pill Rolling" trade. He likes to dance and have a good time, but he is capable of studying and has made a record to be proud of. We feel that the community to which he goes will be much benefited by his presence. Goodbye "Les," we wish you luck.

W. PAGE KING
RICHMOND, VA.
Vice-President Senior Class; Debating Team, 1927-28; Debating Club, 1928-29.

King is endowed with all the attributes that go to make a man of the highest calibre. He has proven himself an ardent orator, a resourceful student, and a man of ability. During his three years in our School of Pharmacy he has made an excellent record, such a record as we like to see a gentleman have. And so, King, our friend and comrade, with a master mind for all tasks, we wish you the best and expect big things of you in the promising future.

SAMUEL TAYLOR McATEE
"Mack"
BERRYVILLE, VA.
Kappa Psi; Secretary Senior Class.

"Mack" is one of the best all 'round boys we know. He is a very popular, outstanding member of the Senior Class, and a sincere student. We know he will be a great success in life because of his good humor, sincerity, and optimism which has caused him to be a friend of all at school. "Mack" came to us from Berryville with a great determination to make good and we can truly say he has done it. We hate to see him leave but we know his services are needed and we wish him the best there is.
Senior Class

JESSE MARSHALL MOFFETT
“Jess” WARRENTON, VA.

Kappa Psi; Theta Kappa Nu (R. M. C.) Vice-President of the Pharmaceutical Organization of M. C. V.

"Jess" came to M. C. V. from Randolph-Macon College and entered the Junior Class. We learned to know and admire him from the beginning because of his exceptional scholastic ability and pleasing personality. "Jess" is not only a good student but also a genius socially. His sincerity with a great amount of fun and good nature will be a great help to him in his work after he leaves school and these with his other characteristics will spell "Success" in anything he attempts.

MRS. ROBERTA CECILIA PALMER
RICHMOND, VA.

Theta Gamma Upsilon; Class Historian, 1928-29; Early Education in Private Schools of Louisiana; Graduate Louisiana State Normal School, 1904; Teacher in Public Schools of Louisiana.

We are indeed proud that we have been the class to receive the association of this great scholar. Respected and loved by every member of the class, she has given inspiration to many of us who might have fallen by the wayside. Though she might blush when asked how Dr. Gray's tuning fork got into her hand bag, closer investigation would reveal that the guilty party was the Class of '29.
Senior Class

Earl Franklin Payne

"Earl"

Orange, Virginia

Kappa Psi; German Club; Honor Council; ’27-’28; Vice-President Freshman Class; Executive Committee; A. P. A.

Earl came to us from the city of Orange and we soon learned that we had a type among us that was certain to make good. He is a conscientious student, a hard worker, and above all, a true friend and a gentleman. On first acquaintance he seemed to be a little smaller in size than the average, but we soon found that he made up for this in many ways—especially his freedom in using the English language to fight his battles. Earl, here's hoping you the best of luck in your chosen profession. Before closing we would like to say that the contacts you have made at Old M. C. V. have been more than pleasant. We feel sure that success is yours.

Roger W. Perry

Alderson, W. Va.

Phi Delta Chi; President Junior Class; American Pharmaceutical Association.

Roger hails from the hills of West Virginia and is known as "The Little Curly Headed Boy from West Virginia." Roger has been tireless in his efforts for his class in every way and is much thought of by the class and by the faculty as a steady boy. But why not, for he is with us for the purpose of studying pharmacy in an earnest manner, for it is rumored that he is engaged to a little girl "back home." Roger, we wish you the best of luck.
Senior Class

GEORGE SCHLACKE PINE
"George"
BERRYVILLE, VA.

Kappa Psi; Revelers; Y. M. C. A. Cabinet.

Down the jagged mountain pathway, forth from the illustrious city of Berryville, strode a youthful lad one bright September morn seeking the knowledge of a profession. "George," as we have learned to know him, was steeped in all those admirable qualities of a true Virginia gentleman. His sincerity and friendly manner has gained forever the friendship of those with whom he has come in contact. Aside from his excellent scholastic record, he has manifested his ability in other student activities. As for his weakness (since all men have weaknesses) it may suffice to mention that George has used a bit of discrimination in choosing but two of the three well known weaknesses of mankind—"Wine, Women, and Song."

EDWARD TAYLOR PIPPIN, JR.
"Eddie"
BRISTOL, VA.

Phi Delta Chi; American Pharmaceutical Association.

"Eddie" came to us as a bright country lad from Bristol, Va. However, he did not retain his country ways very long because his brothers of Phi Delta Chi introduced him to several of Richmond's debutantes and he has been trying ever since to keep up with all of them. Lately, we fear, he has lost interest in all but one. In spite of this affliction we feel that he will be an asset to his chosen profession. "Eddie," we wish you luck.
Senior Class

THOMAS HILLEARY SPATES
“Tom”
BERRYVILLE, VA.
Kappa Psi; A. P. A.
There is not a finer, sturdier, more friendly fellow in school than Tom, and while not a fast worker he is very thorough and one can always depend upon his ideas and conclusions as being correct. He has made an enviable record and we wish him the greatest success in his life work. He is one of the three representatives from Berryville and is a credit to that section. Tom is very quiet and unassuming which causes one to always remember the great quotation, “Still water runs deep.”

JAMES HENRY SULLENDER
“Sullender”
WAYNESBORO, VA.
Kappa Psi; Student Council, ’26-’27; Honor Council, ’27-’28; “Skull and Bones,” ’27-’28.
Sullender hails from the city of Waynesboro, Virginia, the well known Still Pot Hollow. With this handicap he has proven to be a fine student and has made many friends both in school and town. Although this year is his last in college, his influence will be felt for many years to come. We all expect big things of Sullender after he gets out into the world and some day hope that by his influence he will have his home town on the map. The best of luck "ole" boy. May all your troubles be little ones.
Robert Adam Tolley
"Bob"
LEXINGTON, VA.

"Bob" is another one of our friends from Lexington and although he says that Lexington is a wonderful place we have heard him speak up for Richmond more than once. We do not know much about "Bob's" friends of the opposite sex but on several occasions we have seen him on his way to a certain part of this big city—and we are sure that he was not looking for ethical drug stores, "Bob" has shown a persistence and conscientiousness in his work that have won the admiration of all his professors and fellow-students. Wherever you go "Bob," we know that success awaits you and remember that you always have sincerest wishes of the Class of '29.

Isaac Henry Trout, Jr.
"Dizzy"
FRONT ROYAL, VA.

Phi Delta Chi; Secretary-Treasurer Junior Class; Honor Council Freshman Class.

Trout, known to the faculty as a diligent student and to his classmates as a "darn good fellow," He has proven himself a regular genius in the pursuit of Pharmaceutical knowledge as well as the fair sex. He is a hard worker and a real man. Trout, we all wish you every success for the future.
Senior Class

J. Clifton Watts
“Cliff”

KEYSVILLE, VIRGINIA

Kappa Psi; Honor Council, ’26-’27; German Club; Assistant Registered Pharmacist.

“Cliff” came to us from V. M. I., and although quiet and unassuming on first acquaintance, we have found that few can equal his standards of character and well-rounded, likable good nature. There is no doubt that he is as good scholastically when one remembers the name he has made for himself at the University of Richmond this summer. When the time comes to part and he takes the lone train, all of us shall miss him; we shall feel that we have lost a true friend, a good sport and a gentleman, as well as a darn good druggist.
MARGARET MOEHLMAN, R.N.

YOU have unconsciously set ideals of beauty and service for us.
YOU have made three years seem short.
YOU have made us better women and better nurses by knowing you.
YOU have been our ideal.

THE SENIOR CLASS.
MARY LEOLA PRITCHETT

"Big Pritch"

President Senior Class in Nursing

RAWLINGS, VA.

Secretary-Treasurer of Junior Class, 1927-'28; President Senior Class.

"Quiet water runs deep."

Leola has a quiet manner that one is sure will break sometimes, letting the humor that lies just underneath escape. Common sense, dependability, and loyalty to anything that stands for the right are hers. She has a will of her own that makes her stick to what she wants until she gets it. Our Senior President does not advertise her ability or attainments. The Class of '29 wishes you all success and happiness.

Class History

E, THE SENIOR CLASS OF NURSING, are very indignant over the neglect of a certain date, which has, as yet, not been made a National Holiday or something that's important! Namely, the 1st of March, for in the year 1926 A.D. (three years ago!!) a great class of those who are now Seniors, was begun! We were a loyal group, to the Hospital, the College, our Profession, and to ourselves—and in our ignorant, clumsy way, performed our duties and did our work with willing hearts and hands, saying to ourselves and impressing others that we were doing good work and learning much. Above all other things we were modest about our abilities and great accomplishments. This great feeling of having the world under our thumb lasted until the black band of Seniorhood was arched over the white of our caps.
Very gradually the roaring lion (mouth of March) became tamed, there was less noise about our capabilities and with greater responsibility and better understanding came the knowledge that after all we weren't so wise and intelligent, that most of our feeling of security and ability to perform our work perfectly came from the contact with those who had travelled a greater distance than we, who had grappled with Death to rescue Life, who themselves had sacrificed and given that others might live and be healthy and happy. To these, the Doctors of Medicine, Surgery and Psychi-try, we pay tribute.

Meek as a lamb, we leave the portals of Cabaniss Hall, one by one, with a feeling of sadness stealing over us that our souls cannot resist:

"A feeling of sadness and longing
That is akin to pain,
And resembles sorrow only,
As the mist resembles the rain."

We shall soon be a scattered class, each going her separate way to carry on the struggle of knowledge and science against ignorance and disease, and we realize that only the years can finish the story, but we earnestly hope that in the years to come we may all bring honor upon our Alma Mater and our profession.
Mary Nelson Bettis
"Pat"
Marion, N. C.

Mary Nelson hails from one of the Old North State's best towns—Marion. She has now a place for herself in the hearts of her class and in other hearts too! "Pat" wonders why the rest of us worry so much. She has proven that you can get along in this world by taking things calmly and smiling through it all. She has an aptitude for making friends and best of all, remembers the good things about them and forgets the bad—a rare gift.

Anne Slater Franks
"Franks" Lanexa, Va.

Vice-President Junior Class, 1927-'28; Treasurer Student Body, 1928-'29.

The girl whose friendship is sincere: who knows no guilt and feels no fear. No, "Franks" did not come from North Carolina, but she is proud of the fact that she is a native of Virginia. She inherits many sterling qualities of her ancestors; while not gushing nor even demonstrative, she is solid and substantial. She goes about her work in a quiet and efficient manner. Those who know her best love her most. "Franks," we wish you luck and may life with its very best stretch forth its arms to you.
Senior Class

GIULA IRENE GARNER
"Donnie"
NEWPORT, N. C.

Basketball Team, '26-'27.
Still with a love as deep and strong I lay like others, my best gifts on thy shrine!
"Donnie"—from the land of the long leaf pine, like the pine itself, she is dark, silent, and unassuming. Her slight aloofness disguises the warm heart and wistful nature within. She seldom speaks, but her mind moves on hoping, doubting, loving. "Donnie" is our dream girl. Her very innocence has its own appeal. Especially ——— We've had this little girl with us three years. She is a good student, loyal friend, and a wonderful pal. May your dreams come true.

LILLIAN FRANCES GAYLE
"Gayle"
FREDERICKSBURG, VA.

Basketball, '27-'28-'29; "X-Ray" Representative, '28-'29.
"Smile away when you're blue,
And you'll leave your troubles after you."
Fredericksburg's loss was our gain, when Gayle came to us three years ago. Her likable disposition and winning smile have won for her a place in each of our hearts at M. C. V. She is truly optimistic in every respect; you can always count on "Gayle" for a good time, and yet at times you will never find a more serious minded person. We know success is waiting for you and that is what the Class of '29 is wishing you.
Senior Class

Thelma Agnes Graham
"Grum"
Montvale, VA.

President Y. M. C. A., '26; Captain Basketball Team, '26-'27; President Junior Class; Member Dramatic Club, '27; Senior Historian.

"You've heard the song about ginger and pep—Here's a girl that sees that it is all kept." "Grum" is another of those rare and pleasing specimens from the hills of Southwest Virginia. She never worries about anything. She is full of fun and pep, always radiating sunshine among her classmates and is undeniably the best all-round girl in the senior class. "Grum," we know that you will make good in whatever you undertake.

Rachel Robins Haile
"Rach"
Minor, VA.

Historian of Junior Class; Basketball, '26-'28.

"Rach" may not talk so much, but when she speaks you may be sure she has something to say worth listening to. We have always depended on "Rach" and her willingness to be a friend makes us love her more. Trustworthy, patient, and conscientious, thus do we think of her. The Class of '29 counts "Rach" as one of its most valuable members.
Senior Class

M. Bernice Harrell
"Peggy"
FURE, N. C.
President of Freshman Class.

"Mistress of herself though the stars fall."
Upon entering the School of Nursing three years ago we found in our midst a girl with the earmarks of high character. "Peggy" lost no time in winning her way to first ranks in scholarship. Some of us feel that we scarcely know her, yet we who have penetrated the outer shell of a quiet and pensive character know her to be a warm friend of genuine worth. We express our good wishes for an abundance of success and renown.

Mary Frances Ladd
"Laddie"
GORDONSVILLE, VA.
Basketball, ’28–’29.

"Enough to merely be,
   Enough to breathe.
   Joy, joy, all over joy."
Happy and carefree "Laddie" came to us from the distinguished town of Gordonsville, Va., and with her sincere manner, ready wit and broad smile has won the friendship of all. She is a good student a faithful worker and a loyal friend. "Laddie", you’re not a dreamer but a wide awake "live wire." We know that only happiness will be yours—success also. How could it be otherwise?
Senior Class

Virginia Edna Moore
"Jinny"
Marion, Va.

Basketball Team, 1926-'27.

"She had her joys; 'twas joy to live, to love."

Virginia is one of the celebrities of the Senior Class. Her character is different from anyone else in the School of Nursing and this accounts for her popularity. She is always in a good humor, smiling and trying to make someone else happy. Always she is true to her friends, her class and her college. Her characteristics? She is generous, congenial, loyal, and earnest. You, Virginia, generous, loyal and earnest, have made a real contribution to our class in your three years in training. You have a little corner in each of our hearts and you are one of our own—"Yes, Miss."

Meryl C. Morgan
"Mickey"
Wadesboro, N. C.

Treasurer of Y. W. C. A., 1926-'27; Executive Committee—Honor Council, 1927-'28; Secretary of Y. W. C. A.

A heart so bright and true,
A smile for everyone, too;
Nothing for you she wouldn't do—
Our little "Mickey."

Morgan, better known to her friends as "Mickey," is a typical little Tarheel. However trite it may be, we say that she is like a jewel sparkling with mischief and daring—frankness and loyalty. For three long years "Mickey" has plugged away diligently for her R.N. goal, and at other times you were apt to find her dating with that "Certain Party." Here's to your success, "Mickey."
Elva Mae Newman
“Sadie” DUG SPUR, VA.

Honor Council, 1927-28; Secretary-Treasurer
Senior Class.

“To know her is to love her, and to love her on forever.”

“The thing that goes the farthest toward making life worth while,
That costs the least and does the most is just a pleasant smile.”

Elva believes in smiles and she isn’t one bit stingy with them. She is blessed with a happy disposition and will win her way with it where-ever she goes. Elva is a good conscientious nurse—her patients love her as each of us do.
A true friend you would never find. Success is what each of the Class of ’29 is wishing you, Elva.

Zella Vivian Pittman
“Zellie”
SPEED, N. C.

Representative to “Skull and Bones,” 1928-29.

“Zellie” hails from the noted city of Speed,
N. C., although she isn’t the “Speedy” kind, judging from her “Baby-face” and quiet manners. “Zellie” brought with her from North Carolina the kind heart and true spirit of a nurse. Her accommodating good nature has won for her a place in the hearts of her associates and class-mates. Trouble and adversity seem scarcely to disturb her quiet countenance.
With all her natural attributes and those acquired here at M. C. V. success in her chosen profession is assured.
Senior Class

Minnie Florence Pritchett

"Little Pritch"

RAWLINGS, VA.

Varsity Basketball '27-'28-'29.

Many a fair and crispy morning have we emerged from our rooms and as we hurried to our delightful duties in the quest for knowledge, would be greeted by a hearty, ringing "Hello girls!" or "Good morning everybody" from "Minnie-Tee-Hee," the champion gloom chaser. Minnie has always a big, frank, and friendly grin for you. In spite of the fact that her dreamy eyes may indicate that she is a victim of Cupid, they show a reflection of genuine love for her chosen profession. Her record tells that, as a nurse, her patients love her and, as a friend, her classmates hold her dear.

Annie Lynn Savage

"Savage"

GREENVILLE, N. C.

"With her high ambition we read success."

Annie Lynn, just another "Tarheel," brought with her to M. C. V. an over amount of vim and determination. Here's to Annie Lynn who has made for herself true and lasting friends during her three years in nursing. Of her may be said, "To know her is to love her." Those who have been privileged to be numbered among her friends are indeed fortunate, for a truer friend has no one. Good luck and success to you—Annie Lynn.
Senior Class

IN A DURA SUTPHIN
"Sut"
FLOYD, VA.

Member of Honor Council, 1927-'28.
"A perfect woman, nobly planned, to warn, to comfort, and lend a helping hand."
"Sut" hails us from the hills of old "Virginia," unassuming and quiet, guided by the highest ideals of life, she has gone her way making friends of all. None knew her but to love her. She has made a good scholarship record and has been one of our most popular classmates. We wish her the greatest success and happiness possible for anyone to achieve.

VERNA BLAND THURSTON
"Thursty"
CARTERSVILLE, VA.

"Thursty" is a peppy, cheerful individual with that personal gift for getting along with her fellowmen (and women). No words of self-praise does she utter, no publicity does she seek, no high honors of public recognition is she striving for—nevertheless, her achievement is one of the greatest, her position one to be envied and striven for—she is a "Good Nurse." Old Pal, "Well begun is half done." Here's to your future!
Senior Class

Rosalind Binford White
"Whitie"
COHASSET, VA.
Vice-President of Senior Class, 1928-'29.
Rosalind came to us in our Junior year from the Earle Field Memorial Hospital, Washington, D. C., bringing with her a record as a lady of high ideals, good morals, a conscientious nurse, and a student that could not be surpassed. She makes friends very slowly, but once known she is liked by everyone. To have known her is an honor and to have been associated with her is indeed a pleasure. With her great personality and ability we are sure success will crown her efforts and she will some day be a noted character in her chosen profession.

Mabel Lee Wingold
"Mabel Lee"
SOUTH HILL, VA.
"If in doubt, you'll find out
That a smile will pull you through."
Mabel Lee, with her sunshine and cheerfulness, has made a name for herself at M. C. V. Self-confidence and dependence has not failed to gain her many lasting friendships. And in her charming manner she has already displayed her rare personality. It is not enough to say that she will make a great success in life, but at the same time she will make life worth living for her associates. Mabel Lee, we wish you all the good things that can come with such success.
Dental Assistants

MILDRED S. CHANONHOUSE, G.D.N.

Directress, Dental Assistants' Course

First inhalation—Richmond, Ontario, 19... Graduated University of Toronto, Dental Nurses' Course, 192... Migrated to Richmond, Virginia, September, 1925. Reputation made on administrative ability, thoroughness in every detail, godliness and its nearest virtue—cleanliness. Possessed of a pleasing disposition, she has endeared herself to faculty and students alike.

MARY VIRGINIA HILL

"Jinx"

RICHMOND, VIRGINIA

President Dental Assistants

"Jinx" really fulfills the old saying, "Precious jewels come in small packages." This has been proved by her good work during the past year in more ways than one. Here's hoping Dame Good Luck will always smile on our "Hill-Billy."

MARGARET MAURICE

"Peggy"

RICHMOND, VIRGINIA

To the casual observer "Peggy" is always sterilizing instruments or mixing cement, (?) but we who know her better remember that she can usually find a little time to converse with the students of the opposite sex. However, we are sure that wherever "Peggy" goes she will meet with success.

Hazel Pond

"Pondie"

CREWE, VIRGINIA

Secretary-Treasurer Dental Students

The "eyes" have it, and Hazel has surely got 'em. Here's to "Pondie." the girl from Crewe. She is especially fond of X-Ray work. We wonder why? All joking aside, though, she is a very efficient assistant, and we predict for her a very successful future.

MARGARET ELIZ. REDFORD

"Leaner"

RICHMOND, VIRGINIA

Vice-President Dental Assistants

Who is the tall, slender assistant? Nobody but "Redfeet," or probably better known as "Leaner." She is fully capable of handling the whole Dental Infirmary by herself, so what will she do with one little office? She is a very attractive young lady, and she will be an asset to any dental office as well as a very able assistant.

FANNIE MAE STALLINGS

"Stallings"

VICTORIA, VIRGINIA

"Stallings" is the capable young lady who came to us from Victoria. When she found that her work at Memorial Hospital did not keep her busy, she decided to spend her spare time taking the Dental Assistants' course at M. C. V., and that met all the requirements to keep her busy. She seems to be about the busiest lady in the entire school. There is no reason why she should not have all kinds of success.

THE 1929 X-RAY

Junior Class in Medicine

HISTORY

Case: History number 606.
Name: Junior Class of M. C. V.
Age: From blastodermic vesicle to old age.
Occupation: Students and members of the "bald head" row at the National.
Married: About 15 per cent; the remainder will stay single as long as possible.
Family History: Presumably members of Genus Homo Sapiens.
Sex: Two per cent female; 96 per cent male; 2 per cent (we have our doubts).
Chief Complaint: Cerebral mal-formation. Too many roll calls. Hours too long. General "gripping."
Past History: We started medicine in 1926 with the idea of becoming true disciples of Sir William Onder. Thus far, only a couple of us have ascended to these heights. But we are getting on, without question. Anatomy under Dr. Osterud and our dear departed Dr. "Broady," remains a truly pungent memory. Our erstwhile faithful servant, old Peyton, is with us no more, having departed this world last year, and we surely miss his sympathetic analytical description of the regeneration of certain fluids. Dr. Bascom Skinner, "et al.," had their crack at us, but failed to dent our tough hides. Mr. McCracken taught us the proper method of approach in lighting a Bunsen burner, and just about the time we were learning what reagent was on shelf 41 (in the northwest corner of the room) the year drew to a close. On our return the following fall, we thought we were pretty smart, but two or three brisk hand-to-hand encounters with Dr. Charlie left us limp, quivering, and muttering somewhat terribly. The howls of poor-striken canines and the growls and moans of those students whom Dr. Charlie had just "hit" will long remain verdant in our memories. Dr. Miller told us about Niagara Falls and electric light bulbs. Dr. Shaw admitted that he knew his stuff like nobody's business. Mr. Skinner in his characteristic soothing manner, lulled us into sound slumber in the darkened amphitheater to the soft strains of "Corpus Callosum," "lenticular nucleus," and other popular song hits of the day. Dr. Phillips tracked that elusive pathological "X" to its den in the "house that Jack built," and thereby accounted for the "hair on Mr. A. B. C.'s chinny-chin-chin." A short series of lectures was given by Professor S. S. Freeman on Enemas and different ways of taking them. Everyone enjoyed this course thoroughly except the professor, who says it happens in the best regulated families.

Present Illness: We are out of the labs., and in the clinics now. We are still suffering at present from an attack of "Windy Blantonitis" which was epidemic during the latter half of last year. "Windy" breezed through us like a violent cyclone, winding up with a pretty forty-yard run for a touchdown, and leaving our prostrate bodies scattered all over the field. We wonder what it was all about and some day we are going to read up during the subject and find out something about "Normal Physical Signs." During "Windy's" regime, we learned that the liver is a veritable music box and that a fellow named Auernburger invented something-or-other. Dr. Laersohn received us considerably weakened by "Windy's" onslaught.

During the present year we have received pilgrims from two foreign countries, West Virginia and North Carolina, and we welcome them with much enthusiasm. "Dills" are being picked feverishly by the devotees of that gentle art, and a crop of mustaches are being grown. We are learning some "extraordinary" cases from "call 'em roll please."

Habits: Terrible.
General Appearance: Awful.
Diagnosis: One good Junior Medical Class.
Differential Diagnosis: From Dentists (and other mechanics), from Nurses (easy), from Freshmen by—not studying; from Sophomores by—not studying; from Seniors by—not "hounding" Cabot Hall. (This does not apply to Messrs. Van Ellis, Kindred, and others.)
Suggested Treatment: Less work, less "dills," better shows at the National, better bridge games, better luck at poker, and the inauguration of obstetrical stock yards for the benefit of one of our fellow classmates.

Prognosis: If we learn all about women from Dr. Michaux, all about sewer gas from Dr. Whitfield, all about barnyard politics and kindness from Dr. LeRoque, all about "Johnnie and Susie" from Dr. Baughman, all about "achylia gastrica" from Dr. Vanderhoof, about "anaoph'es quadriracinated" and "septic tank" from Dr. Wampeter, about bananas from Dr. Grinnan, about enemas from Professor Freeman, about "straddle trenches" and field hospitals from Major Pitts, about "Richmond After Dark" from Professor Chesty H. Cain, about "Aquae mendaciae pip" and other animals from Mr. H. Miller, and many, many other things, we might probably some day receive the coveted M.D.

But with the fun to one side—we have taught but praise and the utmost admiration for our most excellent faculty, and in true humility we subscribe ourselves their most grateful friends and proteges and will always remember them throughout our professional career.

The Class of 1929 signing off.

HISTORY

THREE YEARS have passed, three summers with the length of three long winters, since that eventful moment in our lives when we made our first appearance at M. C. V. Many of the happy faces which were gathered together then have long since passed from our midst, leaving our class broken in number, but not in determination to carry on the work which it has started.

This year we call ourselves "Upper Classmen," but strange to say, we do not feel the importance which we thought would be ours after climbing the third flight of stairs in our college curriculum. We realize that only a few leaves in the book of knowledge have been opened to us, and only time and experience can give us that measure of self-satisfaction which we seek.

Let us now look in the mirror of our past year's work and play, and see the pictures which are thrown in panorama before us:

We see ourselves assembled in Operative Dentistry Class carefully listening to ascertain what will be our "best bet" in root canal therapy. There is a disturbance—Admiral Charlie of the Ferry Boat is late again. A subtle fragrance pervades the room at his entrance. We wonder where he has been but can only guess.

We are now at full denture lecture. There is a flashing of pencils across paper in an effort to take down the lecture in its entirety. An illustration is now put before us, giving us an opportunity to pause and cool off.

For some reason, another course in chemistry was added to our schedule this year. It is rumored that our good friend "Pelham," being an addict to chemistry was instrumental in its inauguration. Though the Class was not very enthusiastic over meeting the instructor for the first time, we found out he was somewhat of a magician, being able to produce rabbits, guinea pigs, etc., from his pockets at will, and that his lectures were actually interesting.

After working in the Junior laboratory, we can appreciate what the poet meant when he spoke of "friends on every side." Here, we learned all the late songs and cute slang expressions. Our fat cheer leader also held his "pep" meetings in the laboratory and officiated at the hearty reception which was always extended to our visitors.

We will never forget our first few days in the infirmary. Never before had it occurred to us that hands were so large and mouths were so small. It seemed that the school was desirous of making pedodontists out of us and it was quite an amusing picture to see some of the boys looking under the chairs for their patients.

And now that we have come to the end of our third year and have had some experience in the practice of real dentistry, may each of us take a joy in our work, come back again next year, and strive onward until our hopes and ambitions have been realized.

Junior Class in Nursing

CLASS HISTORY

THE JUNIORS came to Medical College as the largest class in the history of the School of Nursing. Because of our number and inexperience we were very much in the way and our egotism dwindled rapidly. Many fled to sheltered homes before the realities of life, but largely guided by our ever-helpful directress, we left the sand and began a new structure on solid rock.

So busy were we with classes and new interests, we scarcely noticed our development, cocoon-like, from care-free school girls into conscientious, efficient student nurses.

Now, our number has ceased to be our outstanding characteristic. We have learned and we realize greater knowledge lies ahead of us. We shall go forward eagerly and carry with us higher ideals, and higher standards of civilization.

HISTORY

THE SOPHOMORE MEDICAL CLASS, after a summer of rest, recreation, or labor (as the case may be), assembled again in September with a mixed feeling of hope and dread, hope for what might be possible during the coming year, dread of what was more probable. Suffice it to say that neither feeling was fully realized. The bed of roses on which we had hoped to repose we found to be plentifully studded with the thorns the Sophomores of the preceding year had led us to expect. Ah! But those thorns (particularly in the shape of Dr. Charlie’s daily quizzes) provoked us to heights of effort without which we could not successfully have fed the aforesaid Dr. Charlie’s insatiable curiosity with precise and well-ordered facts from physiology. Snickers in the distance remind the Historian that perhaps there were one or two occasions on which members of the class in an informative mood were berated as ungrateful for being unwilling or unable to return such information as had but recently been given them.

A contemporary has made some pertinent remarks on how small a world this is. If he had studied bacteriology he would have realized how much smaller is the world in which bacteria live. We learned with much interest and not a little dismay how well bacteria cavort and disport themselves among the molecules and how insidious and underhand is their dealings with their unsuspecting host. This open-eyed wonder at the mysteries everywhere around us, we carried over into Neuroanatomy. Who could have suspected that so complex and well-geared a mechanism as the human brain early proved to be, could be at fault in the numerous irrationalities manifested in this day and age?

The end of the year draws near, and with it comes the realization that we are at the dawn of a new day, and all that has been is but a preparation for that which is to come. The clinical years will represent for us a new order of things, welcomed as a foretaste of the career upon which we are embarking, but regretted nevertheless as a definite casting off of the old from the new. The memories of the past years have been pleasant, but it is toward the future that our eyes are now turned, that future which holds in store for us the career which with the years seems to us more and more worth while.

HISTORY

THE FIRST YEAR of our career at M. C. V. was limited due to the fact that our existence had just begun. However, today we have a history of which we are proud. One year of our dental career stands in the dim past and we are now branded as "Sophs." In surveying the past, I find that most of the members of our exalted group have survived until this day. Space does not permit to give you a record of each individual, for such detail would comprise volumes. Besides if I should reveal the life of my classmates the penalty would be nothing less than the tortures of the Inquisition.

Egypt has its gigantic pyramids as a historical memorial of its past. The names of Plato, Socrates and Euripides have been the heroes of Grecian History. These memorials and characters have become history because of their contribution to civilization. If a nation is not instrumental in playing a role that contributes to science, discovery, or invention, it does not have a history. Our class has made no special contribution to discovery except the best shows in town. Toward invention we have advanced but slowly for we are still using foot engines. As scientists we are to American History as Pasteur was to France. We are great technicians—so perfect that we can mix plaster without a spatula. We can carve teeth in an unseen manner for our products readily prove Darwin's Theory of Evolution.

In closing may I state that we will not be content with our past but anticipate that our energy and enthusiasm will place our names with those of Hannau and Black.

HISTORY

RESHMAN MEDS"—the chief meditation that this idiom brings to cognizance is that under this classification may be grouped the ambitions of eighty-eight individuals. Individuals who gathered from the important points under "Uncle Sam's" jurisdiction, and several foreign countries (including Texas), to be collectively reborn as that Gargantuau offspring of Aesculapius—the Senior Class of 1932. This promising infant of the fall of '28 was brought into the Allopathic world and stood upon its rather wobbly and apprehensive feet by the most noble and inspiring of men—Dr. H. L. Osterud. Further—taking it by the hand and rendering a kindly example of fortitude and never-ceasing industry, he lead it through the early dangers of the four-year pilgrimage to maturity which, when completed, will admit it to the "Royal Order of the Wearers of the Elusive Caduceus."

That this pilgrimage will be a long and toilsome journey, beset with many trials and tribulations, we have no doubt. But, in spite of the fears and skepticisms that our most ardent advisors, the erudite "Sophs," would implant in our crania, we also have no doubt as to the worthwhileness of going through these momentary dis-pleasures in order to gain the "Mecca of Our Heart's Desire."

One of the many things for which we have Dr. Osterud to thank was his treatment of us as if we were "scholars voluntarily seeking a master scholar," whereby we could increase our store of knowledge and were capable of being depended upon to uphold our portion of such a bargain. This trust, we are sure, has in no way been unjustified. His tolerance and trust have been as pleasing and inspiring to us as the intolerance and minuteness of others have been displeasing.

According to all standards, the history of an organization should contain at least an enumeration of the political activities of said organization. This aspect could be omitted from our present account with very little loss to anyone, as it is but a repetition of what has passed before in the selecting of officers for former Freshmen classes.
That is—the politically ambitious from the upper classes, with the aid of the seemingly ever-ready mob spirit, ran the elections through as prearranged and per custom.
We sincerely hope that in the future some individuality may be developed.

Although we are Handsome, Brainy, and full of Charm, our existence as a class has been rather brief—thus our history, of necessity, is correspondingly so. Time should prove quite a factor in remedying this, so great is the allotted four years, and we promise you a history that will be well worth your reading.

History

September brought about a great transformation in the lives of forty-one students as they entered the sacred domains of a professional school. A task unlike any that we had had before confronted us then. A mighty task, but one that we are making a pleasure. The first semester was solely a period of readjustment. We were in an entirely new environment, a new group of associates, new instructors, and a type of work that required our all. We hope that we have adjusted ourselves to these changes so that we will be thoroughly capable of overcoming any task that is put before us.

There have been hours of toil, but there have also been hours of pleasure afforded by the faculty, upper-classmen and fraternities. The hours spent at the receptions, smokers and dances can never be forgotten by the Freshman Dents of 1932.

We have much to look forward to in the years to come, but we will always look back on this one with many pleasant memories. For even though our path has been strewn with the thorns of Histology and Anatomy and a few of us escaped the mental anguish of being “stuck,” time will soon remove the thoughts of these little cares and trials. The hours of pleasure afforded us by the faculty, upper-classmen and fraternities will always be remembered when we are inclined to retrospective thoughts of the happy moments we have had.

Thus ends the history of a year in pursuit of a goal, not merely a space of time devoted to living. Someone has said that “the use of time is fate,” and we make this our wish, that the years to come will be used in such a profitable manner that fate will be kind to all of us.

FRESHMAN CLASS IN NURSING
Freshman Class in Nursing

HISTORY

S WAS: Bursting from the many months of our respective former training, the majority of the Class of ’31 entered into that calling which is training, education, and vocation. We came with rather a groping attitude and with a stubborn wariness of this, the nursing profession.

AS IS: Many of those who entered with us in September of ’28 have dropped out of the race. A few have gone because it was too difficult and one or two because the hands they were wont to use were too awkward for our art. This is a path newly laid and we have trod it variously. In the center is a well-defined and narrow trail of determined footsteps. On the flanks, all along the way, are the faltering, careless, skipping imprints; but here at the end we find a solid strength in the oneness of the path.

We look, after our months of adjustment, into eyes that speak of purpose, of accomplishment, and of a deeper shade of wisdom that was painted there by the several little denials that flecked our mottled progress. We look into faces that have uppermost that clean virtue, honesty. We see a new dignity acquired with the customary cap and bib that is hardly afraid of responsibility. We look into rollicking good humor that has spelled our life at Cabaniss Hall. With our advent into the School of Nursing came the new dormitory, of which we are justly proud and with it came the determination to make our profession a beloved art apart from its traditional drudgery.

Our fingers are stretched out eagerly now for that ever-elusive and sought-for mark of superiority—the black band which is worn so proudly by the aloof and well-skilled seniors. Yet we are not forgetting the while to plan a little harmless initiation in to the game for those who are to take our places as “probes,” nor omitting a look of satisfaction that is more self-respect than conceit—for now we are Freshmen.

What ho! Bring on your tests, Father Time, and let us laugh through with you, for we need never know more—all wise—all hopeful are we. WE ARE FRESHMEN.
AN AUTOPSY

I viewed it from the spirit-world,
The first to pierce the ether sea;
Some ghost had left earth's curtain furled—
I saw the autopsy on me.

They read the history of my case,
Untimely maid of twenty springs,
And then the doctors set to trace
My body-marks of deadly things.

A narrow wooden table bore
The frail remains of merry me;
They laid her out and looked her o'er,
Nor dreamed of days that used to be.

They took the liver, lungs, and heart,
Each organ searched for scars and motes;
They told them, everyone apart—
Mad rosary of organ notes!

A green spot here—a redness there—
An eaten spot—a stony clot—
By these they tell just what and where—
How much, how little—why, why not.

Each vital part thus went the round
Of scrutiny for good or mal,
And then the zealous crew unwound
Some thirty feet of food canal.

What filth they found inside that hose,
When they had got my gut unstrung,—
You'd better guess it through your nose
Than take it from my feeble tongue.

Assistants meanwhile took their notes,
With desert eye and lumpless throats;
The needle sped where ploughed the knife,
My own eyes peering wide as life.

A merrier mood then gripped the gang:
They played the Indian on my head,
And through my skull their saw-teeth sang
A wheezy moaning for the dead.

The skull-cap off, the brain exposed,
They stuffed Parisian plaster in
The neural holes, and then they closed
The skull with staples neat as sin.

So hid the twisted ends of wire
Beneath the re-put scalp and hair,
That sure! no flapper could desire
More beauty-parlor art than there!
They kept my brain (our brain is what we are)
To harden in formaldehyde;
They sealed it in an earthen jar,
And tagged my name outside.

My number and my name they keep,
To sex and science ringing true,
That in the future, while I sleep,
Mankind may study me anew.

And thus he leaves no scheme or trick untried
To fathom woman’s mind!—poor man!
He’ll end his days more mystified
Than when his search began.

How can you read that mystic scroll
I write myself to bless or damn?
Whose eyes have yet unmasked my soul
And known, as I know, what I am?

Ah! muted moan of wistful dove,
And melody of scarce-heard sighs!
Oh! ecstasy of artless love!
Then agony of love grown wise!

But mind-autopsy—that’s the judgment bar!
And here I must be still.
Yet even from our spirit-star,
We marvel at the doctor’s skill.

And when formaldehyde soaks up your brain,
Your ashes in the family urn,—
Then wounded soul will knit again,
And just begin to learn.

These memories that blessed and burned
Will see their hidden answers glow;
These images, who loved and yearned,
Then like their God will love—and know!

The Revelers

THE REVELERS of the Medical College of Virginia are in the midst of their most strenuous and trying season since emerging as the "brain" child of Dr. "Billy" Southward, and his co-workers in 1925.

Every year the Revelers are growing bigger, better and stronger. Of course there is yet much room for improvement, but we feel that with the growing enthusiasm of the Student Body, we are bound to go forward.

This year the orchestra and quartette, with ample talent, had no trouble in getting an early start, and at the Faculty Reception both the orchestra and quartette put forth their best efforts and were boisterously received. A short time later the quartette had the opportunity of supplying the music for several Y. M. C. A. dinners and for a reception given by the Knights of Pythias.

When the Ladies Auxiliary of the Academy of Medicine had its opening party at Cabaniss Hall for the benefit of the Freshman Medical students the orchestra officiated as musical energy. During Thanksgiving week the orchestra and quartette again had the opportunity to display their talent to the delight of the visiting teachers of Virginia, who were being entertained by the College.

"Jim" Ellzey and his Dramatic Club are hard at work at the present time on two plays to be presented in February and March. The Nurses of Cabaniss Hall will put on a play entitled "The Whole Truth," and from all indications will be a "knock-out." "Truth" by the Nurses is unusual anyway. The big production of the year will be a three-act comedy entitled "Applesauce." It is a hilarious play and we feel certain will make a big hit with the Student Body.

The Revelers are making arrangements to broadcast over the Richmond station, WRVA, some time in February and in view of their past success on the air, this year should be the best yet.

The quartette is already scheduled for their annual pilgrimage to Saluda early in March. The people of Saluda look forward every year to the time when the embryo doctors of Richmond will visit them and make "Whoopie."

We want to thank every member of the Revelers for their efforts in making this our most successful year and particularly do we want to express our appreciation to the directors: A. M. Duvall of the Quartette, J. M. Ellzey of the Dramatic Club, and Cyril Kennedy of the Orchestra, for their untiring support and to the Faculty Advisory Committee, Dr. Greer Baughman, Dr. W. T. Sanger, and Mr. W. G. Crockett, for their encouragement and hearty co-operation.

The candidates for the 1928-29 basketball squad were called into action by Coach John Todd in mid-November, and the material was fine. With Daniel, Beale, Butterworth, and others of last years' team, and Byrd, L. Todd, and other good men as freshman material, prospects for a brilliant season were very bright. The first team picked by Coach Todd consisted of Byrd, Beale, Daniel, L. Todd, and Butterworth, with good reserve material. All first string men were experienced players who had seen service on fast college squads, and in our first few games the squad displayed a brand of basketball which stamped it as probably the most powerful one to represent M. C. V. in recent years.

However, the squad began to be crippled by injuries and illness of several men, and therefore, for several games, was unable to live up to its early promise. Toward the latter end of the season, the squad, with its full strength back, again began to flash some high-powered basketball.

The schedule embraced some of the very best teams in this and neighboring states, and the calibre of the teams played easily shows why our win record was not heavier.

The "Medicos" played "in and out" basketball for the most part, looking like "world beaters" one night and turning in a mediocre performance the next. However, the boys were always right in there, working hard against powerful opponents, and all credit is due them for their fine spirit.

The Reserves and Junior Varsity deserve lots of credit for their faithful work. The "Scrubs" get all of the hard knocks and none of the glory. However, we want them to know that their work was appreciated, and their loyal spirit of service will not be forgotten.

The season of 1928 was a fairly successful one. The team had a winning percentage of over .500, and of the games lost quite a few were lost by closer margins than the scores indicate. The team worked together well and were all behind Coach Horace Hicks to a man. A fine fighting spirit was manifested throughout the season's grind. Play was marked by co-operation and team work, not individual play.

The schedule attempted was a difficult one, and embraced some of the best teams in this and our neighboring states. Among others, William and Mary, Guilford College, Atlantic Christian, University of Richmond, and Randolph-Macon were played.

All the men played "heads up" baseball throughout, but the outstanding stars and most consistent performers were Coach Horace Hicks, "Ken" Walden, "Bob" Saffelle, "Jug" Butterworth, Hansbrough, Shelton, and McCall.

Prospects are bright for a great season for 1929, with a wealth of material coming up in the freshman classes of the various schools, in addition to our old material.

R. L. Saffelle, Coach for 1929

R. L. (Bob) Saffelle has been named as coach for the Sawbones' baseball squad of 1929. The former William and Mary star hurler is well qualified as tutor for the Medics, having hung up a fine record on the diamond. Mr. Saffelle also holds the position as president of the Athletic Association of M. C. V.

Saffelle has had a long and varied experience in the realm of baseball. He started his diamond career with the Episcopal High School of Alexandria, where he developed into a star moundsmen and a capable first baseman. His stick work was always consistently good and timely. From high school he went to William and Mary, where he made a fine record on the mound, at first base, and with the bat. During his stay at the Indian institution he chalked up victories over such teams as Yale, Harvard, Syracuse, and many others. He has many shutouts over leading college teams to his credit. He continued his fine all-round playing here at M. C. V., where he has been the mainstay on our teams. Saffelle has also had experience as a player and manager in the Eastern Carolina League, guiding his club to a pennant. It is clearly seen that the choice of Saffelle as coach was a very wise selection, and we predict all manner of success under Bob's shrewd guidance.

As to schedule, we will probably play, among others: William and Mary, U. T. S., Guilford, Greenville, Atlantic Christian, St. John's, Raleigh, U. of Rich., Randolph-Macon, Bridgewater, Washington and Lee, and Hampden-Sidney.

The 1928 Tennis Team enjoyed a fairly successful season. A hard schedule was arranged by Manager Lloyd. Fourteen matches were scheduled, ten of which were played. Of these ten matches, the team won five and lost five.

The victories were over William and Mary, Bridgewater College, Randolph-Macon, University of Richmond, and Union Theological Seminary.

The team was fairly well balanced and displayed a creditable brand of tennis throughout. Our one big handicap in tennis lies in the fact that we do not have good courts conveniently accessible for practice.

Our star net men last year were Waugh and Kent. With these two men as a nucleus to build upon, and several good men who have shown promise in the annual fall elimination ladder, we have high hopes of turning out a fast tennis squad this season.

In addition to the above-mentioned men, “Al” Lloyd, “Ranny” Copenhaver, “Johnny” Wood, and Alger Davis played on the team. Davis has been elected manager of this season’s team.

M. C. V. inaugurated a new era in athletics this year by sponsoring minor sports as well as major. This step represents a great advancement in our athletic program, and we feel certain that minor sports will occupy a more prominent position at M. C. V. as time goes on.

A golf team was organized under the management of H. H. "Tiny" Duncan, Jr. A competitive tournament was held which brought to light quite a few potential "Hagens" in the various schools. Matches with the dental faculty were held. This sport is becoming increasingly popular at M. C. V.

Swimming was also taken up this year. Under the tutelage of Meyer Vitsky, Junior Med., swimming and diving instructions, Red Cross life saving drills, etc., were conducted at the "Y" pool. The attempt to get more men interested in the aquatic sport at M. C. V. was quite successful. There is no reason why we should not turn out a swimming team that can compare with that of any college. We have the material, if the men will only come out.

The mat game was also tried. Under the most able tutelage of Coach Mays of the Y. M. C. A., considerable progress was made. Several fine grapplers were brought to light.

We secured the well-known "Paddy" Mills to tutor the would-be "Demp-seys,” and a finer coach could not have been obtained. Under his able guidance much progress was made in boxing this year.

Moreover, bowling, handball, and volley ball were “done” this year at M. C. V. Intramural bowling meets were held. An elimination handball contest was held in singles and doubles, winners being awarded prizes. Interclass volley ball games were staged. A “free-throw” basketball tournament was held.

In short, a gala year in athletics was enjoyed, the main idea being to present enough branches of sport so that everyone would be taking some form of exercise. The exercise itself is not only invaluable, but it gave an opportunity as nothing else would have, for men in the different schools to get to know each other and to promote closer relationships between the men in the schools of medicine, dentistry, and pharmacy. In addition, more men than ever before in the history of the school turned out for the gym classes at the “Y” and for individual exercises.

In conclusion, we would like to say a word or two concerning John Todd, basketball coach, former star athlete and coach at William and Mary. Admired and respected by students and faculty alike, Mr. Todd has proven a most efficient and hard-working mentor. A more conscientious and unselfish man would be most difficult to find. We are very glad that John Todd has decided to cast his lot at M. C. V. for four years, and wish him all success in his work.

FRESHMEN MEDS SLING HOOFs AT CABANISS HALL

Horwitz Steals Turner’s Job

By far the dirtiest piece of underhand work that has ever been slammed into the face of suffering people was discovered a few weeks ago.

The truth is that one Joe Horwitz maliciously and intentionally swindled a fair man out of his job. The method used was the most ingenious one that has been heard of in these parts for years. This master of jack-leg carefully planned his mode of attack and had been developing this offense for several weeks before the facts came to light. It seems that this man Horwitz began to take a deep interest in Ophthalmology the very day that he entered the school last fall. He always hid his activities by carrying on his dastardly deeds where he could not be discovered. He would slink away to the remotest room and there would study Eye like it was never studied before. He was bound to get Joe White’s Eye if it was in the realm of human possibility.

This skulking young man even mastered refraction, optic principles and organic diseases. Rumor has it that he was once caught studying the subject while following LaRoque through the wards. Furthermore, the writer personally knows of one occasion when he was bodily expelled from the Murphy Lobby for pursuing his dishonorable studies there. This man cut all dispensaries in order to attend that on Eye in order to further enlighten himself by practical application. The slimmest part of the whole affair though was the fact that he often consulted the man for knowledge who later turned out to be his victim.

The whole plot was accidentally discovered when Mrs. LaTouche smeared the Eye grades all over the Bulletin Board. In less than ten seconds after the unfortunate, but honorable, men of the class had recovered from their faint, it was announced that Joe White had in a “nice way” let Turner go. It was fully five seconds after this announcement until the whole class learned that Joe Horwitz had been named his successor.

PROCLAMATION TO THE GRADUATING CLASSES OF ’29

I, the Monarch of the fair city of Richmond, do hereby proclaim that due to the torture that you bums have gone through within the last four years or more that you should have a right to relax. I hereby declare that the key of the City will be dumped over to you on the evening of May 28, 1929.

Through appreciation of the best citizens of Richmond for your choosing our city for your professional studies this privilege is extended you. I wish to tell you straight from the shoulder that the fathers of Richmond are very grateful to you fine men for entertaining their daughters throughout your time here. We are not the kind of people that would risk our daughters with just any man.

Due to the honor that you have bestowed upon our citizenry, I declare the above evening one for rejoicing and celebration.

I, as the Monarch, have personally instructed the police force to extend all courtesies to the graduates of that evening’s classes. I have ordered that all gutters of the street be cleaned in readiness for your occupancy. It is further decreed that any officer that might be caught interfering with you on this evening will be readily discharged from the force and sentenced to spend one hour under the tutelage of Charley Haskett.

(Signed)
F. JULMER RUSTY, M.D.
Monarch of the City of Richmond.

Brawl is Most Brilliant Event of Year

The Freshman Meds were given their first swing in high society when they were extended a tea dance by many of the prominent ladies connected with the College. This affair turned out to be one of the most brilliant social events of the season. Many of Richmond’s attractive past and future debutantes as well as a few of the cultured Westhampton girls were imported for the occasion by those in charge and it is understood that it was appreciated by the “little docs” who as yet had not met many of the fairer sex except those doing the dirty work around Memorial Hospital. The news has leaked out that there were many of the Frosh who wished it in their power (and perhaps uttered a prayer) to duplicate the feat of Joshua in stopping the sun and moon that they might enjoy the delightful “struggle” longer as well as increase the mental discomfort of the inmates of the Hall where the light fantastic toe was being shaken.

Prominent Seniors Will Conduct Filling Station

It is with much rejoicing that the Senior Class has learned that two of their classmates will enter the commercial field as well as to follow their profession.

This paper has just learned that Drs. G. D. Petit and S. L. Cook will conduct a service station in a small town in South Carolina. They have purchased a plot of ground on the main street of this town. (In fact, it is on the opposite corner from the town pump.) These young physicians expect to erect a perfectly modern filling station. The main feature of the establishment will be the “Free Air” apparatus.

The whole thing is a culmination of work that these men have carried on while at M. C. V. These two men have, independently of each other, found new and practical uses for compressed air. They believe that with a little work they can demonstrate the usefulness of this plentiful substance in many more ways.

The first mentioned member of the firm has proven that the quickest way to deflate a pneumatic tire is by filling it full of air. The second member has applied the use of air in inflating the peritoneal cavity by introducing it through the lower end of the alimentary canal. He claims

Cozart Has Narrow Escape

Ben Cozart, one of the Senior Sheiks, had a peculiar accident recently. Rumor has it that he was visiting out on the Boulevard when it occurred. He was preparing to leave and was telling the girl goodbye when a stone came crashing through the window breaking two of his fingers. Cozart is being treated at the city jail while the young lady is slowly recovering from three fractured ribs and a severe mastatis at one of the local hospitals.
Editorial

The "Blue Flame" hereby congratulates every man and woman that has been lucky enough to endure the hardships that they have been subjected to in the last few years. We are proud of you folks that have come through unscathed although foot-sore and under-weight.

The writer has watched you boys toil in the classrooms and has been with you in the evenings when you were trying to master Anatomy, Crows and Bridges, Incompatibilities, and Nursing Technique. You cannot be any happier than he when you part the wool on the Sheepskin and see your name written in the interspaces of the flocce.

These professors have rode you men to death when there wasn't any sense in it and you have stood it like Spartans. The folks back home sent you the shekels and you spent them for books, room and board. To these people back there you have been true. You have given your best to M. C. V. and your Dad has given his best to J. R. McCauley.

Now you have learned everything that these teachers down here know and you are capable of arguing with them as much as you please because you are as smart as they. You will all go back home and there may be a band out to meet you, but remember you ought to be like Lindy and not get too "Cocky" and go to endorin' a lot of cigarettes.

If I were you men though, I believe I wouldn't start practicing too close to home because you must be hard and all those boys you went to High School with will be wanting you to wait on their wives on credit and the like. You have to get this money back that McCauley took away from you someway and I would not be afraid to charge if I were you. Every time I was called out of the night they would pay me. If I pulled a tooth I wouldn't take a drink of liquor for it, either. You men that have stood for that "little old Ruddy fellow" have gone through with it and I wouldn't work fifteen hours a day behind a "sody foun- tain" getting it back either. Then you women who have been punished by living in that big barn of a hall ain't got no business nursing some woman for no twenty dollars a week either.

I know you all are going to be a success wherever you go. I don't care whether you stay in the United States or go to North Carolina, you will make your mark just the same. People don't realize how hard you have worked and how much you are doing for them. The best way to impress it upon them is to charge them like Charley Griffith or Robert Shison will do, I wouldn't throw myself away on some woman either 'cause now that you know everything you can be independent and pick up some girl with a lot of "Jack" who will help you get some more.

Last but not least, you must serve the people and be true to your profession because after all this labor you must be an honest, ethical man in that profession.

The "Blue Flame" hates to see you boys go but it can still stay here to sympathize with these poor fellows coming on. Goodbye, boys!

P. S.: Don't spend all your time playing golf and bridge.

Bedtime Story No. 220

"Skinny" of C. H. Fame

In our meanderings through the backyards and alleys of our beautiful campus, we have happened upon many strange sights, but never in either 'cause now that you know everything you can be independent and pick up some girl with a lot of "Jack" who will help you get some more.

Last but not least, you must serve the people and be true to your profession because after all this labor you must be an honest, ethical man in that profession.

The "Blue Flame" hates to see you boys go but it can still stay here to sympathize with these poor fellows coming on. Goodbye, boys!

P. S.: Don't spend all your time playing golf and bridge.

Senior Will Write

Book on Medicine, Surgery, Etc.

Some fool reporter came in on the editor the other day all out of breath exclaiming that he had the best story that had ever been smeared on the surface of a piece of paper. The editor was enjoying one of the best cheroots that he ever bit the end off of and was not in a condition to listen to an over excited reporter. When the reporter finally took a swig of likker to settle his nerves and gave an inkling of what it was all about, then there was some real excitement.

The old editor, who was never excited before in his life, fell off his swivel goods box and swallowed his cigar. While trying to get to the water he stumbled over the spittoon and fell into the contents of the sandal. The office girl (not Ophelia), thinking rate had ended her services, mopped up and pinned the office dog to drop his head in utter humiliation. Never before had there been such a rumpus raised in that quiet editorial room.

By this time the hardened old editor had recovered enough of his composure to try to quiet things down. He suggested that the whole force take a drink and settle down to put out a midnight extra. This extra gave promise of disrupting the whole medical world.

The whole thing was that a man had been able to reproduce in a small space all that is known concerning medicine. This man in editing his works will make it possible for the practitioner to look up any disease and immediately find the treatment for that disease. The prescriptions given in this book are guaranteed to cure any patient suffering from any pathologi- cal condition. The form prescription is so efficacious that the patient will not have to be individualized, as there will be no case that cannot be cured by merely pre- scribing the medication in this book on Therapy. There can be no variation in manifestation or clinical cause that will disrupt the therapeutic efficacy of the rem- edies.

It is advocated by the author that rubber stamps be made bearing the various prescriptions so that time may be con- served.

The surgical division gives the technique for all operations which if carefully followed must be right. There are no varia- tions or anomalies, according to the author.

The material has been procured from the lectures of all the professors of M. C. V., and the book may be had by addressing Parker Publishing Company of North Carolina.

The news has been smuggled in to the editor from various and sundry sources that the army doctors had put to it to withstand the numerous onslaughts of the Inmates of Cabaniss Hall. It is reported that one of the members of the lowest medical class who came straggling in to the dance late was ushered to Miss Retel's room. A member of the Senior Class, a fair specimen of the marines, was imprisoned in a closet by the nurses to pay the penalty for attempting to enter the "meat carvers" and for being a guest at the affair to which the inmates of the Hall had been purposely excluded because of their inferior standing in social circles about the town. It is well known now that the administration wished to give the freshmen the right start in their training by giving them a chance to associate with a high class of the fairer sex. It is thought that the nurses were excluded on this account.

It is rumored that the Disciples of Nightingale around Cabaniss Hall are suffering from an epidemic of polyphagia as was manifested by the lack of eats when the time came for them to be served. This came very near throwing a monkey wrench into the whole works. A great amount of embarrassment was experienced by those sponsoring the affair. It is widely known that the Frosh quickly adapted themselves to the situation in hand and in spite of the fact that practically all of the freshmen had previously been Fletcherized by the ravenous nurses there was some food left.

Many of the guests had a struggle to get into their coats when preparing to leave as the nurses had been practicing their sewing that afternoon and some say that they are studying for the wrong profession, judging from the excellent jobs which they turned out. There are some that think that a few should be electricians since they were instrumental in turning out the lights in the dance hall while the dance was in progress. Others have the opinion that they were only helping the Froshmen along by giving them a chance to do their stuff in the dark. Be that as it may, we have our doubts.

Senior Upsets Section

It was in the Orthopedic Section that all the turmoil was caused by a Senior exposing part of his anatomy. Why this quiet dignified member of the highest class ever committed such a thing remains a mystery. We like to think that it was done unconsciously but there are some that argue that the whole act was premeditated and was maliciously carried out.

The whole thing occurred when a child came in to be treated for a residual of anterior polio myelitis. The whole section was seated in a semi-circle around the room. The guilty one was seated far back in the corner. It has always been his custom to sit far back among his fellows.

The patient being discussed by a prominent member of the staff and all the students seemed to be extremely interested. After the case had been discussed from every angle the section was invited to come forward and personally examine the poor unfortunate patient. The eager members of the section began to go forward to more closely scrutinize the results of that terrible malady. After most of the members had gone forward and satisfied themselves concerning this particular case, this man, who was to expose himself before the patient and the section, slowly stepped forth. He advanced very slowly and his attitude was that which is characteristic of his kind. His approach was not labored but more of a stealthy nature. He resembled the common house cat as it quietly approaches its prey.

It was just as he reached the unsuspecting patient that this student exposed his hidden parts. The whole act was so unexpected that only a few members of the section can describe the exact procedure, but it will suffice to say that one Frank Pearce slowly withdrew his hands from his pockets.

WANTED: A new dance step that is guaranteed to discomfort others. "Pucky" Pregmal.
Freshman Carrying Arm in Sling

This paper was very much shocked to hear that one of our most prominent freshmen had experienced an unfortunate injury to his arm. This young Medico had been wearing the sling for quite a while before our reporter was able to ascertain the cause for the hobbling of his right member. It seems that this innocent freshman came here in an excellent condition of health from a tobacco farm in North Carolina and that he withstood the ravages of Anatomy without spot or blemish to his reputation or his body. During his course in this most dreaded of all branches however, his body began to weaken. His powers of resistance were not what they were when he was on the farm. It proved, however, that Biochemistry was to be the cause of his present condition. His right arm seems to have gradually weakened during his course in chemistry until finally he suffered a complete wrist drop. After close examination by Dr. Coleman it has been decided that the injury to the musculo-spiral nerve resulted from digital pressure along the course of that nerve. The lad was advised to get rid of the source of chronic irritation and that he would be well. The boy refuses to do it, however, because he says that he would rather that his hands drop clear off than have trouble with the chemistry department.

Famous Sayings By Famous Men

Dr. Haskell: "You knew that. Didn't you?"
Dr. Urbach: "The treatment of flat-foot is—mustard plaster."

What Would M. C. V. Be Without:

An Evelyn Bryce and her Cherry Smile.
A Charlie Haskell as a constant reminder.
A Miss Chanonhouse to make the dental nurses work.
A McCracken to teach one how to study.
A Jonah Larrick to do everything that everybody else neglects.
A "Skinny" Martin to assist Dean Reitz in keeping the nurses straight.
A Charlie Phillips to take our Mother's love.
A man like Dr. Osterud to start a man off right.
A man like McCauley to get the funds.
A man like Dean Rudd to keep the little boys working.
A student like "Tiny" Duncan to cheer everybody along.
A first class lecturer like Dr. Michaux.
A place like Cabaniss Hall for its teas.
A man like LaRoque to do all the work.
A quintette of good fellows like the Omega boys—Jim Brown, et al.
A School of Nursing to furnish dates for the boys.
A man like Dr. Anderson to give us a picnic.
A student like Onyx Bennett to lead us.
A pair like Hite and Garvin to argue.
A man like Preacher Copley to lead us right.
A fellow like Parker to ask questions.
A bird like Ike Steele to lead the Bull Sessions.
A Joe Moore to lead us in the Stentorius pastime.
A man like Chandler to make it possible for us to pass the junior year.

FOUND: In fashionable dance hall following M. C. V. dance, one sober student could not obtain name as he was ashamed to admit his identity while in such a condition. Anyone knowing such a thoughtless knave please communicate with "Lizzy" McCraekin or "Bull" Thornton.
Passing of the Tribe of Hiawatha

[Written under the pressure of Dr. E. C. L. Miller's examination in Bacteriology as an answer to a question requesting the use in a story of certain words peculiar to the science.]

(With apologies to Longfellow)
By the shores of Gitche-gumee,
By the shining deep sea water,
Stood the wigwam of Niconis—
Daughter of the moon—Niconis,
And her grandson, Hiawatha,

* * * * * *

Now the lad is grown to manhood,
Versed in all the forest knowledge,
Skilled in all the ways of hunting—
Strongest of his tribe and swiftest.

Learning now the ways of white men,
Learning of the white man's vices
And his disregard of nature,
Were his tribesmen retrogressing.

Then the valiant Hiawatha
Went thru all the forest calling,
Calling all his fellow tribesmen,
Warning them against the white man,
Warning them of sure destruction.

But the warriors would not heed him,
Drank the white man's firewater,
Sold him skins for beads and trinkets,
Learned to love the white man's vices.

Then there came the plague among them,
Pestilence and sickness raging,
Raging thru the leafy forest,
Thru the land of Hiawatha.

Then the warriors sought his council,
Penitent for their abuses,
Glad to do his slightest bidding,
That might cause the plague to slacken,
That might bring relief from suffering.

So the noble Hiawatha
Tried to the white man's doctor,
To the white man's laboratory,
There to test for black infection
And to fight the plague's destruction.

So the doctor drew some serum,
From a guinea-pig, drew serum,
And he called it "complementum."

Next he drew some from a rabbit,
From an immunized rabbit,
Immunized to sheep's red blood cells,
Immunity before developed
By injection of sheep's blood.

From a bottle took some liquid
Which he called an antigen,
Mixed these three and incubated,
Incubated thirty minutes.

Added next some Indian serum
Which might hold an amboceptor,
Syphilitic amboceptor
Which would make it full fixative,
Giving then a Wassermann
With a "four plus" standard reading.

One brave took an antitoxin
To relieve his throat's infection
Caused by streptococcal toxin,
Caused by diphtheritic toxins,
For his blood was quite unable
To combat the throat infection;
To inactivate the toxins.

The other one had syphilis,
Yet the test was unresponsive,
For his serum wasn't normal;
Caused a complement fixation
So the reading was not valid;
Neither tube had hemolyzed.

With other ails the white man's doctor
Tried the tests of flocculation,
Tried also agglutination,
Even tried precipitation,
Finding many troubles brewing
In the tribe of Hiawatha.

But the doctor, never tiring
Gave to some a potent vaccine,
Gave to some a weakened vaccine;
With attenuated virus,
With a slowly acting virus
Building up the antibodies.

Then the saddened Hiawatha
Took his brave's back to the forest;
To the dense and leafy forests,
To the dark and dreary shadows,
Sad of heart was Hiawatha,
Sad to know his brave's were dying.

Glad also, was Hiawatha,
Glad to know the white man's doctor;
Thankful for the plague's arresting,
Thankful for the work of science.

Hiawatha's days were numbered,
And his tribe was weak and scattered,
Old age now had crept upon him
And the burdens of a chieftain
Were too much for him to carry.

Hiawatha left the forest,
Left the shores of Gitche-gumee,
Glided thru the purple shadows,
Glided thru the lingering twilight
To the quiet of Nirvana.

Valentine’s Meat-Juice

The Power of Valentine’s Meat-Juice in Quieting the Irritable Stomach, Aiding the Digestion, Restoring the Appetite and Sustaining and Strengthening has been demonstrated by many Medical Men in the treatment of Anaemia, Exhaustion and Debility.

Dr. Antonio Navarro Fernandez, Physician San Juan de Dios Hospital, Madrid, Spain: “Valentine’s Meat-Juice has proved of great importance in treating patients suffering with Dystrophia and in cases of Anaemia caused by Syphilis. I find it most efficacious in treating patients after operations of all kinds.”

John Keay, Medical Officer in Charge, Edinburgh War Hospital, Edinburgh, Scotland: “The Valentine’s Meat-Juice has been in this Hospital, and in cases of extreme exhaustion from sickness or wounds has been found a stimulant and food of great value.”

For Sale by American and European Chemists and Druggists.

Who Will Make Up Your Mind?

The trained man in any profession or trade is the man who selects his tools—or equipment. He undoubtedly knows best how he will apply his knowledge and skill, and, therefore, he should know—better than anyone else—what he will require in equipment.

Very soon you will turn your thoughts and attention to the selection of dental equipment for your office—and the importance of your decision cannot be emphasized too strongly.

You will be approached, no doubt, by many types of salesmen, each endeavoring to sell you his line of equipment. Some of them will strive, through one means or another, to get your signature on the dotted line immediately without occasion to inspect any other line—it is their job to make up your mind.

Most obvious, then, is the necessity of deliberating and wisely deciding—making up your own mind—whether this equipment or that equipment will best suit your needs.

It always has been the policy of The Harvard Company not to rush the dentist into a sale—but to invite open inspection, demonstration and comparison of Harvard Equipment with any other line.

We urge you, before you buy, to carefully examine every line of equipment and compare it point for point with every other line—then use your own good judgment in making up your mind.

Any Harvard Dealer will be glad to demonstrate Harvard Equipment

Why Should Doctors Insure?

Because, as a class, they survive to every advanced age; and because they are too busy being good doctors to acquire the business man's familiarity with investments. Perhaps no other professional man is more likely to reach the age of retirement without sufficient means of support.

As a method of eliminating this risk we prescribe the most effective "economic antiseptic" known—an Old Age Endowment policy in Mellin’s Food is frequently, and erroneously, spoken of as simply a "sugar". The actual facts, as stated above, are that the sugar content (maltose) is 58.88% and that 35.5% represents nutritive material other than sugar, viz: dextrins 20.69%, cereal proteins 10.35%, fat .16%, mineral salts 4.3%; the latter consisting of potassium, calcium, sodium, magnesium, phosphatic salts and iron.

PRIVATE ROOMS

Private rooms with accommodations for one, two, three and four patients have been provided. The charges for general board and care are from $3.75 to $7.00 per day, which includes general nursing care, the services of the Resident Physician and the House Staff.

Other charges for ambulance service, bacteriological and pathological examinations, medicines and prescriptions, surgical dressings, the use of delivery and operating rooms and X-Ray examinations are reasonable.

All reputable physicians and surgeons in Richmond have full privilege (including the use of operating rooms) to treat patients occupying private rooms in any of the hospitals.

PUBLIC WARDS

The charge for patients in the Public Wards is $3.00 per day, which is in full for all examinations and service necessary, there being no extra charge.

The privilege to treat patients occupying beds in the Public Wards is restricted to a group of physicians and surgeons appointed by the Executive Committee of the Board of Visitors, selected from the Faculty of the School of Medicine of the College. Physicians and surgeons do not receive a fee or any emolument from services rendered by them toward patients.
